OBSERVE PATRIOTS DAY

Patriotic Programs in Local Schools Deal With Significance of Day

Patriots day, which will be celebrated next Monday, April 19, was formally observed in many of the local schools today. Patriotic programs dealing with the historical significance of the occasion were carried out in the halls of a number of schools while in others exercises were confined to the various class rooms.

There were no formal exercises at the high school. All the public and parochial schools closed this afternoon not to re-open until next Tuesday morning.

STEEL WORKER FALLS FROM STAGING

Thomas Furey of 181 Mt. Vernon street, a steel worker in the employ of the Abernethy Construction Co. on the erection of the new plant of the Bay State Cotton Corp. in Broadway, is in a serious condition at the Lowell corporation hospital as a result of an accident, which occurred this morning while he was at his work.

Furey was working on a staging on the tower of the building, about 45 feet from the ground, when shortly after 10 o'clock one of the planks of the staging broke and the man fell to the ground. He received injuries to his head and probable internal injuries. He is about 25 years of age.

INTRODUCES NEW IDEA

School Committee Chairman Calls Important Conference of Masters

An innovation in the management and conduct of Lowell's public schools that gives promise of great benefit was introduced by Chairman Thomas H. Delaney of the school committee last evening when he called a conference of all the masters and principals of the local grammar schools for a frank and candid discussion of the present methods employed in the school department.

The conference was held in the school committee's rooms in city hall. All the members of the committee with the exception of Julian B. Keyes, who is ill, were present together with every grammar school master and principal of the city, Supt. Hugh J. Molloy, Principal Henry H. Harris of the high school, Major Walter R. Keyes, physical instructor in the elementary grades and Miss Vera E. Groves, special teacher.

The conference continued for nearly four hours and in that time many ideas relative to the improvement of school management were received by the committee and, according to Chairman Delaney, will be discussed.

ANOTHER BIG DOWNTOWN REAL ESTATE DEAL

One of the largest real estate transfers ever effected in this city and surely the most comprehensive of recent years, with the exception of the sale of the Higelow-Hartford holdings, was instituted yesterday when agreements were signed by Max L. Katze of this city and his brother, Samuel M. Katze of Lawrence to purchase the Sirk property in Bridge, French, Brookings and Amory streets embracing a four-story building which covers the entire square above outlined and which has an assessed valuation of $132,450.

The property is now occupied on the ground floor by the wholesale department of the D. L. Page Co., and 11 other retail and wholesale firms, engaged in a wide variety of businesses. The three upper floors are used as lodging houses, totalling 27 apartments and upwards of 100 rooms.

The purchasers have only tentative plans at present for the development of the property, but it is believed that some of it, now unoccupied, will be torn down to make room for a garage and storage plant of unusual size.

This transfer is but one of several which have occurred downtown during the past few weeks, although it is far greater in scope than any of the others. The real estate and of the sale was handled jointly by George Greenberg and Charles M. Potter.

Return of Strikers and Improved Service Reported From All Sections of the Country

Conflicting Reports From New York—Some Announce Strikers Flocking Back—Crumbling of Strikes in Central and Far West Follows Arrest of Strike Leaders in Chicago—Situation in New England Greatly Improved—Cuts in R. R. Passenger Schedules and General Industrial Shutdown Averted

Return of strikers and improved service were reported today by railroads in various sections of the country, as the newly appointed railroad labor board assembled in Washington for its first session to consider wage demands of rail workers.

In the New York district, where volunteer crews continued to man trains in increasing numbers, there were conflicting reports concerning the number of men who had returned after the railroads, last night, had delivered an ultimatum that their last chance would expire tomorrow noon. Some roads announced that strikers were flocking back, but others reported sporadic walkouts.

Some brotherhood officials expressed fear that the men might regard the ultimatum as a challenge and prolong their walkout. Efforts at conciliation in Jersey City this morning were without result.

Crumbling of strikes in the central and far west was indicated following the action of the government in arresting 25 strike leaders in Chicago. Improvement in service also was reported in the middle west, one of the sections hardest hit. Almost normal operation was reported by many roads leading into Pittsburgh.

With passenger service generally improved throughout the country, Bruce's Glue has no equal.

RENEW EFFORTS TO SETTLE STRIKE

R. R. Officials Threaten to Fill the Deserted Posts After Tomorrow Noon

NEW YORK, April 16.—Leaders of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods today renewed attempts to settle the strike of rebellious railroad workers before the ultimatum of the roads' managers to the "outlaws," threatening to fill the deserted posts with volunteers and cut off consideration of strikers' representatives and Union leaders went into a conference with strikers' representatives and Mayor Frank Hague in Jersey City, and at the same time a mass meeting of strikers opened in Hoboken.

First indications were the railroad's pronouncement had made no appreciable impression of the strikers. A few men returned to work, but service on one road was still further crippled by sporadic walkouts.

There was a general improvement in passenger service due to use of volunteer train crews, and receipt of two substantial shipments of foodstuffs was announced, but on at least three important roads no freight was moving and no other service was seriously hampered.

Embargo Removed

It was said at the New York Central offices that freight service was so much improved that the embargo has been lifted east of Buffalo and north of Yonkers on the New York Central and north of Newburgh on the West Shore railroad.

THEODORE N. VAIL DEAD

Was Chairman of Directors and Former President of Am. Tel. & Tel. Co.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 16.—Theodore N. Vail, chairman of the board of directors and former president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. died at Johns Hopkins hospital this morning of a complication of cardiac and kidney diseases.

Mr. Vail was brought here from Jekyll Island, Georgia last Sunday in his private car. At the hospital it was stated that he was in a serious condition when he reached there and his death was not unexpected to the physicians.

Mrs. Vail and a niece were at the hospital when he died. The funeral will be held Sunday of Parsippany, N. J., in the family vault.

Newly Appointed R. R. Labor Board Holds First Session at Washington

Prompt Action Expected to Have Influence on Present Strike

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Wage demands of the 2,000,000 railroad employees of the country were taken up today by the newly appointed railroad labor board, which held its first session at the railroad administration with seven of the nine members present.

The absent representatives, Judge W. M. Barlow of Memphis, Tenn., of the public group, and A. O. Wharton of the labor group, were expected to arrive later in the day.

Both administration and railroad officials believe that the prompt assembling of the board will have its influencing effect on the strike.

ANOTHER SUGAR SHORTAGE HERE

Not a pound of sugar is obtainable today in at least six of the city's largest retail markets and grocery stores and as a rule wholesalers say they have none on hand or in sight. Not only is there an acute shortage in Lowell, but the price to the consumer is steadily rising. It is said and as an indication of this it is reported that Maine cannery men are offering 22 cents a pound cash for sugar in Boston, but cannot get it. There has been a wholesale increase of 150 per hundred pounds within the past few days.

The present shortage here has been developing slowly for the past two weeks, so slowly, in fact, that it has escaped general notice. Word came to the city today from Lawrence that a retailer there sold several hundred pounds of sugar to another retail merchant for 27 cents a pound and that the purchaser would get at least 33 cents to the consumer. This same report contained the news that a retail price of 15 cents is not improbable within a month or two.

Don't Blame High Prices, Madam---

Blame yourself if you choose to buy your spring hat in a high price store. We claim we are the most reasonable millinery store in Lowell. But do we ask you to believe us? No, we simply ask you the most plausible thing on earth. Visit our store. Note their prices. Come to us, and decide for yourself whether we can save you from 25 to 50% on your hat. Aren't we fair?

THE "BIG HORN SHEEP"

Not Like His Cousin the "Fool of the Fanner Fold"

If you have the wind of a hallow and the health of a bear, you might become a hunter of "Big Horn Sheep," the lord of the Rocky Mountain tall peaks, but in addition to being hardy, you'd have to learn a lot.

Big Horn should be called something else than "sheep." He has none of the characteristics of the tame, timid, natural born fool of the farmer's fold. Big Horn is brave, self-reliant and often shows human intelligence. He sticks mostly to the tallest mountain tops and snow, frost and zero lock up the last scrap of food on the peaks.

There are still a good many Big Horns. They range from the American Rockies clear up into the Canadian Rockies. They withstand fiercest heat and fiercest cold. Big Horn will stand as high as 3 feet 3 inches at the shoulders and weigh as much as 100 pounds, but rarely. Their horns may be as much as 15 to 16 inches around and 20 to 22 inches in length.

These mountain sheep ordinarily move in bands of 10 to 25 but the older and finest rams often travel alone in their glory. In May the ewes go into solitude in the most inaccessible places, where the lambs are born. They quickly learn to run with mother, but when she is away they crouch motionless as if not to attract birds and beasts of prey. Their coloration helps and you might step over one without knowing it was there. In the fall the rams have terrible battles. Their horns splinter and only unusually thick skulls save them from shattered heads. But their horns do not interlock as with deer. Big Horn is always on guard for danger. You will never see a band grazing but that one has head up, his keen eyes surveying the whole horizon and his wonderful nose smelling the air currents for the enemy. They are restless travellers and in a summer may cross whole states. Big Horn is the greatest climber in the world, out-rivalling the noted chamois and ibex.

WHERE THE WILLOW WORKERS WEAVE

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
LIVERPOOL, N. Y., April 16.—This is a town built on a stalk of willow. And, this summer, when you settle back in that comfortable creaking porch chair—give a vote of thanks to the townfolk of Liverpool. For there is the center of the world's willow industry. As folk in the American home demand more and more of the willow way—chairs, tables, floor lamps, baskets, ferns, bird cages, and a hundred other things—the people in that little one-industry village work their fingers that much harder, to keep up with the increasing popularity of their handiwork.

Seventy-five per cent of the willow that is grown in America comes from Wayne and Onondaga counties in New York state. And Liverpool is right in the center of the great fields.

Practically every home in the town has its own willow factory. And practically every member of the family has a share to do in the business. The younger generation plant and cut while mother, dad, grandmother and granddaddy, dry and weave.

The back room of the Liverpool home is the workshop. All day long, and sometimes into the evening, deft fingers work away at what is soon to be gracing, possibly, a fashionable home on Fifth avenue, in another portion of New York state.

The willow industry is an odd one. Small branches are planted where a new field is desired. Soon they become great stalks from which other branches bud. These are cut, stripped and dried over night, then packed away in great barns and sheds. When needed, they are soaked for eight hours. This puts wily life into the stems and they are ready for weaving.

Several factories have sprung up in Liverpool in recent years which cater to the making of larger pieces, such as davenport, dining room tables, large chairs and beds, the least article to be attempted in willow.

NOON TRAIN FOR AYER

The freight regulation and transportation committee of the chamber of commerce, E. L. Bennett, chairman, has made application to the general passenger agent of the Boston & Maine for the reinstatement of the noonday train to Ayer Junction. This train was taken off under government control and inasmuch as there is no steam connection between the Junction and Lowell between the hours of 6:55 a. m. and 5:05 p. m., the committee feels travellers are entitled to better service.

COAL MEN HONOR HERBERT R. WHITE

The Lowell Coal Merchants' association gave a complimentary and testimonial dinner at the Richardson hotel last evening to Herbert R. White, for six years secretary of the association and who leaves the city soon after being identified with Lowell's coal business for many years. Through the president, E. A. Wilson, the association presented him a substantial purse of gold, while Mrs. White was remembered with a box of beautiful flowers.

The association adopted resolutions dealing with Mr. White's long period of service in the city and expressing deep regret at his departure. Mr. White graciously responded to the resolutions and gifts to Mrs. White and himself.

LOWELL MOTORBOAT CLUB MEETING

The increased membership in the Lowell Motorboat club will necessitate the enlargement of its wharf on the Merrimack river to 10 feet wide and 125 feet long. The annual meeting last night was held in the Pawtucket boat house and the officers for the coming year were elected. The several reports of the various committees predicted a very lively season on the river.

After the routine business of the club was transacted and the officers elected, luncheon was served and an informal good time was enjoyed. The officers elected were: James E. Walker, commodore, fifth term; J. W. H. Brooks, vice commodore; E. O. Page, recording secretary; R. G. Moore, secretary; W. B. Adams, treasurer; J. P. McElroy, L. J. Flye, and E. A. Brooks, board of directors; J. J. Rutledge, trustee for three years.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Twenty-eight new members were initiated and 47 applications for membership were received at the regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, which was held last evening with Dictator Ernest P. Parsons in the chair. The following committee was appointed to find suitable quarters down town for club rooms: Brethren Goss, Devlin, Ellis, Barnard, St. Onge, Mcaney, Lanard and McKenna. Past Dictator David Hartnett officiated at the installation of the following officers: Trustee P. A. Ginn, O. G. J. H. Brady and J. G. Frank Goss. Routine business was transacted and plans were made for the annual

Masher Smasher Freed of Killing and Wife's Proud of Him

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manne and (inset) Manne photographed with a Chicago police officer of average height.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Mrs. Lillian Manne thinks every nice girl in the United States ought to be just as proud of Mrs. Manne's husband, Joe, as Mrs. Manne is.

Manne is the man who mashed the masher. He swung so hard on three night revelers who annoyed Mrs. Manne that he killed one and whipped the other two.

Manne is five feet tall and weighs 135 pounds.

"It's too bad it was a death blow for one of them," said the wife of the pygmy slugger, "but I think after this there will be less of the obnoxious street-corner mashing. The blow Joe struck will be heard 'round the world—by mashers, anyway."

The coroner's jury quickly exonerated Manne. So did the municipal court. Judge Stewart said: "You were within the law in taking a wallop at a man who used such obscene language toward your wife."

Manne is a song writer for a music publishing house.

Placed in the wreckage, and died later at Dickinson hospital.

The cause of the accident has not been determined, but it is understood the block signal system failed to operate properly.

None of the Smith college students were injured severely, their injuries consisting largely of cuts and abrasions, while some suffered from slight shock.

Three Seriously Injured

Of the passengers and crew of the regular car, three were seriously hurt and removed to Dickinson hospital. John W. Haldon of New York city, a traveling salesman, is suffering from a possible fracture of the right leg and Charles Jensen of Belchertown was injured internally.

Walter Svelola of Easthampton suffered a bad injury of the leg. Mrs. Eva Gross of Hadley sustained a fracture of the leg.

When the seriousness of the accident was realized, the fire department was called out and automobiles of the department were used in rushing the injured to the hospital and college dormitories. Dr. Marion B. Sleeper of the college attended to the injuries of the students.

College girls. In charge of Prof. W. J. Miller of the geology department, had spent the afternoon in study on Mt. Tom and were returning home. As their special car rounded a turn within the city limits the regular trolley came in sight, and before either motorman could apply the brakes the cars collided with a terrific crash.

The passengers in both cars were tossed from their seats, many of them through windows.

Officials of the Northampton Street railway last night refused to give out a statement on the result of their investigation as to the cause of the crash, but it was stated from other sources that the block signal system failed to work when the special car entered the single track stretch, allowing the regular car to enter the block.

TROOPS PATROL BERLIN

Big Force Massed, Following Rumors of a New Revolt Impending

BERLIN, April 15.—Government troops were massed in the centre of Berlin last night, following the return of Herr Severing, Prussian minister of the interior from the Ruhr district, where he was sent to conduct operations. Among the units assembled were 15 tanks, 29 armored cars and several detachments of machine gunners, and it is presumed this military movement was a result of rumors of a new revolt impending.

Herr Severing has ordered that the public be barred from the quarter of the city containing government buildings and Wilhelmstrasse and Unter den Linden were held by fully armed troops all day yesterday.

Conditions in Pomerania, where reactionaries are said to be very active are reported to be of the utmost gravity.

Planned in the wreckage, and died later at Dickinson hospital.

Sentenced Man's Wife is Still Working Hard to Save Him

N.E.A. Staff Special
OMAHA, April 16.—Allen Vincent Grammer and Alson B. Cole have been sentenced to death and the date of their execution fixed 13 hours, and they are still alive.

Three times executioners have made trips half across the continent to Lincoln, Neb., to carry out the death sentence, and gone back without having done so.

Once, on Feb. 7, the reprieve came almost at the moment set for the men to die.

Grammer's nerves have given way under the strain, and he is in a state of collapse.

Cole takes the matter easily. He jokes prison officials about it and says the execution never will take place.

On Feb. 7 Cole was sound asleep at the hour set for the march to the electric chair, and the warden had to wake him to tell him that he had been reprieved again.

Grammer lies on his bed, hardly speaking even to his wife, who has stood by him throughout the fight for his life.

Spurred by Family

Mrs. Grammer is the daughter of the woman her husband and Cole were convicted of murdering. Her brothers and sisters have all turned against her. Once she met her brother in the hall of the courthouse, he on his way to secure execution of her husband's sentence, she to beg the governor to spare his life. The brother turned his head away and did not speak.

Cole and Grammer were convicted in 1917 of the murder of Mrs. Lulu Vogt, whose body was found on a rural road near Palmer, Neb., July 6. Both men made confessions, and later repudiated them. Cole said Grammer promised him $500 to kill his mother-in-law.

Reasons for Reprieve

The fight for their lives has been made by two young Lincoln (Neb.) attorneys, John M. Priest and Sterling E. Mutz. Several of the reprieves have been to permit appeals and motions for new trials.

One was because there was no equipment on hand at the time to electrocute the men.

Another was because the executioner who had been engaged could not come. Another was to test Grammer's sanity.

The last one was because the state could not secure the dismissal of the appeal before the St. Louis court or appeals before the state set.

SOLVING THE PROBLEM

Association Builds Houses for Car Shop Employees in North Billerica

Seven houses of seven rooms each with pantry and bath, steam heat and electric lights, are being erected in North Billerica under the direction of the Billerica Garden Suburb, Inc., and it is expected that before the summer is over at least 25 of these cozy little homes will have been completed.

The corporation was formed some four years ago and has a tract of 56 acres of land in the North Village to develop. Its aim is to supply homes for the employees of the Boston & Maine car shops in the village, and it is said its plans are meeting the general approval of the employees of the concern, for houses are disposed with as soon as finished.

C. H. Williams of Billerica is treasurer of the corporation and he stated yesterday that the corporation was organized for the benefit of the employees of the car shops, for with the opening of the huge plant hundreds of men have expressed a desire to make their homes in the village, but like Lowell, the number of empty flats or houses in the town is very limited. "We are erecting fine comfortable homes for the workmen," he said, "and are giving the purchasers ample time to pay for them. Each house we erect has seven rooms with hardwood floors, pantry and bath, steam and electricity, and with it goes 5,000 square feet of land, large enough for a fine little garden. So far we have housed about 300 people and we expect to more than double that number before a great while."

Building New Church

Work on the new St. Andrew's church in North Billerica is going right along, but it is not expected the new building will be ready for services until the latter part of the summer or early fall. The new church is being erected on land adjoining the rectory in Talbot avenue.

It was stated yesterday that the parish has an option on a fine piece of land in the Centre village, near the town hall, and as soon as the North Billerica church is completed another church will be erected in the Centre.

The various church societies of the North village are deeply interested in the building project and are all lending a hand in the raising of funds for the new edifice. The last to come to the front is the Father Mathew Temperance society, which has made arrangements for the holding of a May party some time next month for the benefit of the new church. The affair will be held in the quarters of the society and the program will be an elaborate one. It will include an entertainment in the society hall. Dancing will be held on the lawn adjoining the building. The committee in charge of the event consists of the following: Frank Mullen, chairman; Carl Delahanty, James Condon, John R. Higgins, H. Higgins, E. J. McNulty, Chas. Continued on Page 4

Presented a Film

A delightful gathering took place recently in the town hall in the Centre village when the ladies' auxiliary to the G.A.R. entertained the members of Billerica Post 116, American Legion. In the course of the evening an enjoyable entertainment program was given and luncheon was served, but the feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome American flag to the post by Joseph Kearney in behalf of the post.

World War Memorial

Where will the world war memorial be erected? is the prevailing question in Billerica. It will be remembered that at the last annual town meeting a committee consisting of representatives of the town and the American Legion was appointed to select a site for the erection of a memorial building, this committee to report at a special town meeting to be held in the course of the year. This committee is composed of the following: Selectman Sheridan, Postmaster King of the Centre village and Mr. Lyons, representing the town, and Joseph Kearney, Joseph O'Brien, Edmund Quinn, William Lyons and Warren Manning, representing the legion. This committee has been very active of late in looking over sites, and although they have not made an official report, it is understood that the majority will report favorably on a tract of land in the North village, a short distance from the school. It is expected there will be a hot contest at the special meeting, for the residents of the Centre village will do their utmost to have the memorial erected in their part of the town, while the residents of the North feel the building should be in their section and they will leave no stone unturned to win their point.

Sunday Baseball

The residents of the town are anxiously waiting for the call of a special meeting, for while the meeting will be for the purpose of receiving reports from the memorial site committee, it is expected that the matter of Sunday baseball will also be thrashed out. The North, so it is stated, is unanimously in favor of Sunday sports, but the Centre is bitterly opposed to it, and on this opinion there surely will be something doing. The legion has not as yet taken any action on this question, but it is expected the matter will be thrashed out at one of its meetings before the special town meeting is called.

Baseball Professionals

North Billerica is boasting of having in its midst at least two baseball professionals. They are Pete Condon, who last year played with the Lynn team in the New England league, and Henry Sullivan, who spent last season with the Lowell team of the New England league. These two young men will leave shortly to resume their "work." Mr. Condon will leave Monday for New Haven as he has been signed up again as pitcher for the New Haven team, while Mr. Sullivan, who has received several liberal offers, has not yet made up his mind as to which he will accept. He has received a call to the Richmond team of the Virginia league and one to the New Haven team of the Eastern league, as well as others, but he is still at sea as to what to do. His position is catcher.

MADE BARE LIVING

CHICAGO—Jimmy Hanson, 22-year-old Italian boxer, has had as many hard fights as Bat Nelson for a similar length of activity—and yet he has made but a bare living wage. He has hooked up with Phil Thery and they claim to have a plan by which Jimmy can win quickly, work easier and win money.

WILLIE GROWS RICH

NEW YORK—Boxing is a grand old game. The good ones somehow manage to eke out a fairly luxurious existence. William Jackson, crack lightweight, cashed in on 11 bouts in the last three months for the snug sum of $21,915.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

APPEAL TO SEC. COLBY

Urge Fair Treatment for
Irish Prisoners

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Diplomatic representations to Great Britain that Irish political prisoners should be given judicial trial or released are directed to be made to the state department by congress in a resolution introduced today by Representative Peter P. Tague of Massachusetts. After introducing the resolution Representative Tague, accompanied by a delegation, called upon the new secretary of state, Bainbridge Colby at the state department.

The Tague resolution, which was referred to the house committee on foreign affairs, of which Rep. John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts is the ranking republican, is as follows:

Whereas, a considerable number of citizens of Ireland have been subjected to arrest and confined in prison institutions without being arraigned or placed on trial for any specific offense; and

Whereas, the arrests of the aforesaid citizens of Ireland are based on allegations of committing acts of a political nature, directly or indirectly connected with a purpose to establish freedom and independence as a nation by the people of Ireland; and

Whereas, it is an accepted principle of the law of nations that persons arrested as political offenders shall not be subject to the methods of confinement and treatment accorded those arrested for felonies; and

Whereas, it is disclosed to the world that the lives of the persons arrested as aforesaid are being endangered by reason of the failure of officials representing the government of Great Britain to arraign the imprisoned persons on any charge, grant them trial, or otherwise definitely accord judicial determination of the causes of arrest and continued imprisonment; and

Whereas, the aforesaid arrested persons are as of inalienable right entitled to arraignment and trial, and pending arraignment and trial to be accorded that treatment which the principles of the law of nations accord to those arrested for political crimes, as distinguished from felonies. Therefore, be it

Resolved: That the house of representatives does hereby request the secretary of state, with the approval of the president, to cause representations to be made to the government of Great Britain that the aforesaid prisoners should immediately be arraigned, placed on trial and their cases definitely disposed of by judicial process of law, or given liberty; and if to be further held with stated purpose to accord them trial they be not further subjected to those recognized by the law of nations to be applicable to acts of a political nature.

Finding Missing Persons Is A Never Ending Task

Record Room in the Salvation Army's Bureau of Missing Persons, New York City. (Insert) Missing Persons' Section of the Salvation Army's "War Cry."

The Salvation Army, because of its world-wide, conducts what is probably one of the most efficient of detective bureaus.

caus. It is the bureau of missing persons, which sends out daily alarms to all sections in its efforts to find those who have disappeared.

In the United States over 1500 inquiries for missing persons come into the Salvation Army each year and, in spite of the meagreness of the available information, in spite of the fact that a large proportion of those who are missing do not want to be found, in spite of all the obstacles and hindrances, over 1000 are located by the Salvation Army each year.

There is the child who runs away from home because the terrors of cold and hunger are nothing to him compared to the fear of school and teacher. There is the man who finds it easier to desert than to support the family that he thinks is too exacting. There is the woman who feels that the river or the open sea is less terrifying than the hardships of life. For all these and many others the Salvation Army is conducting a vigilant, unceasing search.

And the methods used in finding the delinquents are as varied as the causes of their disappearance. Sometimes an overlooked clue, an old letter or the address of a friend lead to the end of the search. Sometimes a paragraph inserted in the War Cry—the Salvation Army publication which is circulated in every country in the world—or in other mediums to catch the eye, will bring the missing one home. Sometimes the man or woman hunt goes on for years, only in the end to become one of those unsolved mysteries that the world speculates upon a month or two and then promptly forgets.

THE RING THAT SHATTERED FRIENDSHIP

NEW YORK, April 15.—Here's a nine-carat diamond ring that broke the friendship of two women. It's valued at $7500. Mrs. Clare L. Turek says it vanished while her friend, Mrs. Florence Levinson, was visiting her. The ring later made its appearance in a jewelry shop and was returned to the owner through a firm of lawyers whose client had paid $1500 deposit on the ring. Mrs. Turek had offered $2500 reward.

WORKERS O. K. IN TOWN OF OKAY

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 15.—A modern five-room cottage for $25 a month, and with heat, light, water and telephones free.

Okay, a model village founded on three years of experimentation, is being erected near the O. K. Manufacturing company's plant as a suburb of Muskogee. The company bought the land, divided it into town lots and is now working on nearly 100 modern cottages. About 20 have been completed. No two are alike, and there are lawns and attractive back yards.

The cottages are being occupied as fast as they are finished. Employees who want to own their own homes are offered a free lot and liberal credit with which to build. A company bank has been organized primarily to handle loans.

As soon as the model village was formed an election was held and 231,000 bonds voted for a school house.

Further improvements of the model village are intended later.

"It's just good business," says C. E. Harris, president of the company. "We want the factory to grow and this is the best way I know to make it a success. Fair play is our aim."

Aged People Suffer

And Weaken Their Vitality by Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Other Irregularities.

Sulphur Tablets, a Mild, Efficient Formula, Gains Wide Popularity in Recent Years.

A "young" woman, seventy-seven years old, writes: "I am taking Sulphur Tablets, and I think they are a splendid remedy for constipation. I am seventy-seven years old and have tried many remedies but have found none as effective as this. I am recommending them to all my friends suffering from the effects of constipation. They are not only laxative, but a fine tonic also. I feel much better and stronger since I began to take them. Sincerely and gratefully yours."

(Mrs.) Ellen A. Bennick, Cambridge, Mass.

Sulphur Tablets (not sulphur tablets) are composed of sulphur, cream of tartar and the fine extracts of roots and herbs, and are surely suited for children or adults to overcome the constipated bowels and inactive kidneys. Headaches, backaches, dizzy spells, pimples, rash, boils, nervousness, all follow the train of irregular elimination of impurities. A week's treatment will please and justify the most skeptical. Sold by leading druggists everywhere at 50c per tube.—Adv.

HOW "SHOT FIRERS" FLIRT WITH DEATH

BY MABEL ABBOTT
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Kan., April 15.—The average life of a "shot firer" in the Kansas coal mines is eight months. Alexander McAllister of Rigo, Kan., has been shot firer for 30 years. McAllister was a witness before the Kansas industrial court in its investigation into mine, wage and living conditions. He is 53 years old, has a wife and 10 children. A shot firer is the man who, when the miners have prepared the charges of powder or dynamite to shatter the coal for next day's work and have left the mine, goes down and lights the fuses.

The mines of this district employ about 150 shot firers. Fifteen were killed in 1915; 16 have been killed

A Nutritious Diet for All Ages
Quick Lunch at Home or Office

Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

since 1915. There were three deaths in one month this year.

When McAllister goes down into the mine he carries a sharp knife and a little lamp with a naked flame. The passages are so low that a man must bend double. In many places only 36 inches high. In the dense blackness he finds the first shot, perhaps five pounds of blasting powder or 20 sticks of dynamite rammed into a hole in the coal with a couple of feet of fuse hanging out.

With one motion he splits the end of the fuse so it will catch fire quickly and touches the flame of the lamp in it, then he runs for his life, doubled up in the low black tunnel he hobbles along like a dog with a hurt paw, going on both feet, one hand, the other hand holding knife and lamp.

The next shot is 26 feet away. He slashes the fuse, touches it to the lamp and gallops on. Every 36 feet there is another. The fuses burn fast. The roar of the first shot reaches him before he has fired the 10th.

Crimped in his 36-inch burrow, he must keep 200 feet ahead of the bombardment that is chasing him. Death is at his heels.

McAllister and two assistants fire two shots in one hour, and twenty minutes, when they come out they drip with sweat as if they had been in a shower bath.

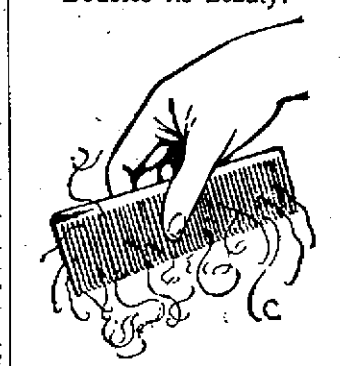

McAllister has become known all over Kansas for his understanding of mine conditions. He is sent for to go down into "outlaw" mines, where no one else dares to go, and to rescue trapped or injured men from places where no one else can live. He has carried nine dead shot firers out in his arms, but still he goes back. The work pays well and he is proud of his ability to prevent accidents. Even his wife says she is not anxious about him any more.

"If you live, you know how to fire shots," he says. But no insurance company will insure Alexander McAllister.

GOING AT FULL SPEED!

OUR ANNUAL SALE OF

Tires at $1 and Tubes at $1

Has Set a Whirlwind Pace and a New Record

This timely and most welcome sale which is of equal interest to owners of pleasure cars and commercial vehicles, began with a fine burst of speed and it has not let up even for a moment since the opening hours of the event.

IT'S SUCCESS WAS A CERTAINTY

Our regular customers who know all about the sale from past experience, purchased and are still purchasing tires and tubes in great quantities, and we are immensely pleased with the smiling new faces which are in evidence daily, for this proves that the good news of this sale has spread.

Pre-eminent as a merchandising event!—A distribution of Tires and Tubes is a money saving occasion without an equal in the history of the Rubber Industry. Double sensational is this sale because of the present high prices for rubber, fabric and labor, all of which means that another increase in the present prices of Tires and Tubes is a foregone conclusion and that the increase must become effective in the near future.

prairies during summer, gathered together and look up quarters at some likely winter grounds. If found by big hunters who were nothing but butchers, the whole band could be decimated before the remaining antelope would take fright and desert their winter home.

The antelope is the wariest of all American game animals. It is next to impossible to get nearer than 200 yards of him, and a man who can make a fatal hit at over that distance has to be an exceptional shot.

The antelope is the keenest sighted wild animal in America. He has great bulging eyes that are as strong as telescopes. He glimpses the smallest moving object and is off like a flash. The fastest horse cannot gain on him.

But the antelope is most curious of all animals, and that is often his undoing. A handkerchief waved above the grass tops, is such an attraction that he will gaze long on it and finally edge towards it.

Antelopes always kept to the prairies and grassy plateaus in former times; they refused to go up into the mountains or into thick woods. They have recently learned that this means safety and have changed their habits.

A stomach alternative and blood maker that has been favorably known for the past 50 years is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

An imitation of nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous force is used when you take an alternative extract of herbs and roots, without the use of alcohol, like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This vegetable medicine coaxes the digestive functions and helps in the assimilation of food, or rather takes from the food just the nutriment the blood requires. This "Medical Discovery" gives no false stimulation, because it contains no alcohol or other narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood.

ALTON, NEW HAMPSHIRE.—"I derived great benefit from the use of Doctor Pierce's medicines, and wish I had taken them just as soon as I commenced to feel 'out of sorts,' as the old folks used to say. I had a nervous break-down, suffered from indigestion, gas in stomach, and at times the distress seemed to be all thru my body, which made me feel very bad. I thought I should never be well again, but I thank God for creating herbs that will heal all diseases if we only know what they are and where to find them, and I can truly say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Pierce's Ironic (iron- tonic) Tablets and other remedies have done me more good than anything else I have ever tried. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's remedies to all, as I believe they are the best real herb medicines."—H. P. TIBBETTS.

ON HORNS OF DILEMMA

No Wonder That the Bonus Bill Gives Congressmen Sleepless Nights

BY GEORGE B. WATERS
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 15.—Congress is fairly spiked on the horns of a dilemma.

The house ways and means committee and its special sub-committees to draft a final soldiers' relief bill have perhaps the hardest task which ever faced national lawmakers.

On one side is the unanswerable argument of the American Legion that service men returned from camps and trenches, many of them penniless, to a country that made 15,000 war millionaires.

There are two ways of paying a bonus—in bonds or in cash. The American Legion proposes a $2,000,000,000 bonus.

"To pay it in bonds is to ruin the nation's credit," says Secretary Houston. There are already $26,000,000,000 selling below par.

"To pay it in cash is to put the country on the rocks of bankruptcy," declares Chairman Good of the appropriations committee.

Departments are asking $5,000,000,000 for 1920-21 and the committee is trying to prune this to $4,000,000,000. If it spends more than this amount it will "go broke," says Good.

In appointing a committee to draft the bonus bill, Chairman Joseph W. Fordney, ways and means committee, named himself as chairman, and divided the other four memberships equally between republicans and democrats. These members are: Nicholas Longworth, Ohio, and Wm. R. Green, Iowa, republicans, and Claude Kitchen, North Carolina, and Henry T. Rainey, Illinois, democrats.

Chairman Fordney appointed five other sub-committees to consider the various plans submitted. Each is to make a report on the feasibility of the suggestions made by the legion and other congressmen to the big committee above named, and then the main committee will draft the final bill that is to be submitted to the house.

These five committees chairman are: Land aid, Willis C. Hawley, Oregon; home aid, Ira C. Copley, Illinois; vocational training, George M. Young, North Dakota; cash bonuses, J. W. Fordney, Michigan; miscellaneous suggestions, Allen T. Treadway, Massachusetts.

So the committees have in mind the argument of the American Legion and the warnings against bonds and cash. They must draft a bill.

When the bill comes to a vote the congressmen must think of the two sides of the argument and they must remember, too—4,500,000 ex-service men and the votes of 36,000,000 taxpayers who want lower taxes. Some dilemma!

Have You Seen Our Demonstration?

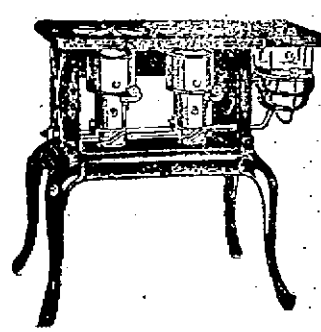

We placed one of these stoves in our window and lighted it, then suspended from the ceiling, by wire, a kettle full of water ten inches from the top of the stove and kept it boiling continually. Most people concluded it was boiled by electricity, no flame being discernible.

WHERE IS THE SECRET? Right here—Our stove is not made to consume oil. It is not manufactured by large oil interests. It is made to economize in oil. The oil is generated into gas which, in turn, gives intense heat at a small cost. Yes, a small cost. A continual flame for twenty-two hours on one gallon of oil.

WENT DOWN LIKE A MAN

Former Stoker on Ill-Fated
American Destroyer Eulogizes Lowell Hero

"Rogers was a good pal; he went down like a man."

Thus, briefly but to the point, old Lawrence Foster, former stoker on the ill-fated American destroyer, the Jacob Jones, eulogize today George F. H. Rogers, the Lowell boy who lost his life when the Jacob Jones went down in the North sea in December, 1917, the victim of a German torpedo.

Rogers was the first Lowell sailor to give up his life in the world war and few of the details surrounding his death have ever come to his relatives here. Foster, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., was serving as a stoker on the ill-fated destroyer when it was attacked by a German submarine and he had been talking to Rogers a few hours before his death. But let him tell the story in his own words:

"Yes, I know Rogers; he came to the Jacob Jones as a seaman; I was a stoker. He must have been 23 or 24 years old, I guess, and the fellows on the deck all spoke a good word for him. I became acquainted with him but didn't see as much of him as many of the other men on the destroyer because you know the 'black men,' as they call the fellows in the boiler room, don't have much chance to mingle with the men on deck.

"However, Rogers and I used to go on a four-hour watch at the same time every night, 12 o'clock. In that way we had a chance to see each other. On the night before the destroyer went down Rogers appeared for his watch as usual at midnight. The last I saw of him was up on the deck standing near the galley door. I went down into the boiler room and he went to his post. He was as cheery as ever then.

"It was some time in the early morning that the crash came. The first feeling that comes over one at such a time is that he is rising in the air. The boat goes up. There was no fire—at least, I didn't see any—there was just that feeling that you're going up, up, up.

"The next thing I knew I was in the water. The destroyer sank in 15 or 20 minutes after it was struck. Four or five of us managed to get into a surf boat whether it was knocked from the vessel by the concussion or purposely lowered into the water, I don't know. All I know was that I got into it. Rogers, I suppose, didn't make a boat and went down. Whatever happened, I know he was game.

"We hadn't been in the surf boat long before a shell came our way. The Germans weren't satisfied to destroy the Jacob Jones; they were out to get even the lifeboats. I felt a sudden pain in my left leg at the knee. I learned later that the pain was caused by a half-pound shell splinter. But I knew little or nothing at the time except that I was suffering from pain and had been thrown in the water.

13th century, with Italy in the lead, tall of long, straight-fitting gowns, with correspondingly long, tight-fitting sleeves. If the lady were wealthy, she chose silks, or velvet brocade, often adorned with bands of gold or silver embroidery. But were she of a lower class in society, laws prohibited her from wearing such materials as silk and velvet. Almost always a cap, or ornate head-dress of some description completed the costume. The unique head covering of Miss Compton emphasizes this fashion.

There is never any great amount of formality attached to these annual banquets and "eat" speeches are absolutely barred. From 6:30 until 7:40 o'clock the boys gave every bit of their attention to a broiled chicken dinner that tasted as good as it looked. Sultana roll with "kickless" sauce topped off the menu in fine style.

James F. Conway, faculty manager of athletics, served as a sort of master of ceremonies and asked Mayor Thompson to say a word or two. The latter spoke for a few moments on the possibilities of an athletic field

He felt that if the alumni provided the interest and funds necessary for the erection of a modern athletic plant there, athletics in the school would be only in its infancy.

BRINKLEY GIRLS' ANNUAL DANCE

Attended by a large crowd of Lowell's young people, the annual dance staged in Lincoln hall by the Brinkley Girls last evening proved one of the most successful events of the season. AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Spring Festival week, at B. F. Keith's theatre, carries with it a bill of good balance with comedy, music and dancing about equally featured. Smith & Austin, in their amazing travesty, "All Fun," are the top-bills, but running a close second is Hurry Breen, the indefinable comedian, with his huge cage filled with limericks and other verses. Vinie Daly, singer and dancer, will appeal to many because of her wonderful song, "The Meanest Man in the World," by Edward R. Ruskay, is played by Jack MacFadyen and Marion A. Day, and it is a rattling good piece of work. There are many other good things about the bill, including Permane & Shelley, Dancing McDonalds and Turner & Grace.

THE OWL THEATRE

Yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre were well represented. Capacity audiences were the rule. A big time bill of vaudeville, three big acts. The first, "Scott & Christy," the "Dixie Boy and the Yankee Girl," certainly do not do it over. If you want to enjoy a good laugh, don't fail to see "Tobin," the clever juggler. In the second big act, "Alexander & Murray," the humorous "Harmony" rules. The features are of utmost interest. "Flasbands and Wives," featuring Vivian Martin, and "Gamble in Souls," with Dorothy Dalton as the star. A brand new weekly and the second episode of the "Lost City" complete an exceptionally good bill of vaudeville and pictures. The performances are continuous daily, starting at 1 p. m., three complete shows being given, the vaudeville appearing at 3, 6 and 8 p. m.

THE STRAND

A good, hearty laugh is due the patrons of The Strand when they witness Taylor Holmes in "The Very Idea." This is an unusually clever comedy and the star is seen in one of his best parts. There are babies concerned, and lots of excruciatingly amusing scenes and situations. Then there is George Walsh in "A Manhattan Knight," one of this liveliest picture stories. It has all of the pep and vigor of Walsh presentations. The showing of the Weekly includes another series of views taken from the German raider Moewe.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wallace Held proves that he is a speed demon as well as an entertaining comedy star in his new picture, "Excuse My Dust," being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. "Excuse My Dust" was adapted from Byron Morgan's popular magazine story, "The Bear Trap." Ann Little is the leading woman, and Tully Marshall and Theodore Roberts are also in the cast. The other feature of the current program is a Maurice Tourneur production, "My Lady's Garter," an exceptionally entertaining mystery story. A Burton Holmes travel picture, the International News and a comedy round out the bill.

OPERA HOUSE

Playgoers who favor highly dramatic stage engsavor, artistically and cleverly portrayed, should not miss the presentation of Paul Armstrong's latest stage creation, "Escaped," by the popular Lowell Players at the Opera House this week. It's by far the strongest and best play of its kind of the season. Miss Fields is exceptionally good in her portrayal of the young girl, and flooper L. Ritchey finds greater opportunity to reflect his dramatic talent than ever before. The others of the cast are praiseworthy. It's a play of the north-while sort.

HE PREFERRED JAKY TO SWEET MELODY

William Hughes, convicted yesterday of stealing a phonograph, said that "Jaky" was the cause of it all when his case was called for disposition in the municipal court this morning.

William, it will be recalled, was found guilty of stealing the music box from the proprietor of the lodging house where he lived—and the case was continued until today to see if in the meantime he wouldn't give the police a clue to the present whereabouts of the machine.

This morning there first appeared a Mr. Ansara, who told the court that on the night of the theft he met William a short distance from the latter's abode, and that William wanted to sell him the phonograph. He was suspicious that things were not altogether as they should be, he said, and refused to purchase it.

At first William wanted $75 for it, he said. Then he remarked that he'd let it go at $60. Finally he said that for a favor he'd sell it dirt cheap—for $25.

Mr. Ansara wouldn't buy it, however, and after learning from William where the phonograph might be, inspected by prospective purchasers, informed the police, who recovered it.

"What have you to say about this now?" queried Judge Pickman, turning to William, who yesterday had insistently denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of the "missing" melody maker, declaring that it had been stolen from his room while he was wrapped in slumber.

"It's the truth, Judge," replied William. "Yes; it sure is the truth. I took the phonograph, but it wouldn't have happened if I hadn't been drinking 'Jaky.' 'Drink always was my downfall, Your Honor.'"

William, who said that he had until recently been employed as a bell hop in a hotel in Providence, R. I., then pleaded long and earnestly for a chance to walk the straight and narrow path in future.

With the understanding that he would return to the Rhode Island city, a suspended sentence to the house of correction was prescribed.

Defendant Released
Charged with being a fugitive from justice, Teimistokels Tralykas, arrested a few days ago on a warrant issued by the Pennsylvania police alleging larceny in Philadelphia, was discharged when his case was called on continuance today. Deputy Downey told the court that although immediately after the arrest he had communicated with the Philadelphia police, no further information had been received from them in connection with the matter and he, therefore, recommended that the defendant be released.

of the company. Parianter underwent an operation last night and a bullet was removed from his abdomen. Alessandro Barandelli, a guard, was killed instantly. The police today were searching in several states for the robbers.

Plans of the robbers evidently were well matured. Two of the band attacked Barandelli and Parianter as they were carrying the money from the company's office to its shoe factory, across a railroad crossing. Two others kept nearby laborers under cover of pistols and fired into factory windows to drive back employees. A fifth member of the party drove the automobile in which the robbers escaped. A fusillade of shots greeted the tender of the railroad crossing when he tried to drop the crossing gates in the path of the escaping men. Pursuit parties in automobiles lost the trail at Abington.

The bandits dropped tanks from their machine as they fled, hoping to check pursuers. The leader of the band was said to be a young foreigner about 20 years of age.

Wage Demands

ence on the present strike of railroad men. Many of those who walked out already have returned to work with the understanding that their demands would receive prompt attention.

At the railroad administration it was said that the demands of the strikers would not be given preference over those of the other rail employees; that the wage question would be considered as a whole.

Ex-Mayor Hunt Chairman

The board perfected a temporary organization by electing Henry Hunt, former mayor of Cincinnati, as chairman, and G. Wallace W. Hanger of this city, as secretary. Both are members of the public group.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The wage dispute as it stood with the breaking up of the bi-partisan conference here two weeks ago, was submitted to the board, Mr. Hanger announced, and the board will begin consideration of it at once.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN N. E. SITUATION

BOSTON, April 15.—The arrival of more freight, including coal, than had come into New England on any day since the strike of railroad employees spread to the east, created marked improvement today in the regional transportation and industrial situation. Drastic cuts in railroad passenger schedules and a general industrial shutdown were believed to have been averted.

The N.Y.N.H. & H.R.R. announced that the predicted curtailment in passenger traffic on its lines would not be made for several days and that it might be averted entirely. The Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine roads also announced that further cuts in service were unlikely at present. Express service on all lines was improved today and local freight movements continued at slightly below normal.

Fuel Shortage Serious

Railroad officials said the fuel shortage was serious, however, and as a conservation measure fires were drawn in all engines not in use. A few industrial establishments were closed through lack of coal and raw materials, but a gradual lifting of embargoes and lessening of congestion at New England gateways led to the belief that relief would be speedily forthcoming.

Strike Propaganda Circulated

Organized efforts to swing New England railroad men into the ranks of the strikers outside the section were continued today. Agitators who here from New York, circulated strike propaganda and made preparations for a meeting on Sunday under the auspices of the American Federation of Railroad Workers. Railroad officials reported that employees within the region continued to refuse to quit work.

Students to Replace Strikers

Marine clerks employed by the New England Steamship Co., a subsidiary of the New Haven railroad, were on strike today at Fall River, New Bedford, Providence and in three Connecticut coast cities. New Haven officials accepted the offer of students at Massachusetts Institute of Technology to replace the strikers and declared that freight would be kept moving by water.

WORKING ON MULTIPLEX TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Work has started on the installation of telephone equipment which will give New England the second multiplex telephone system in the world directed over ordinary telephone wires.

When completed about July 1, this multiplex telephone system will connect Boston and Bangor, Me. Without constructing any additional circuits the special equipment will provide the equivalent of four additional lines. It will make possible five conversations between ten people over a single circuit at one time.

For example, one telephone subscriber in Worcester, one in New Bedford, one in Lowell, one in Waltham and one in East Boston, can talk simultaneously over one Boston to Bangor circuit with five other subscribers in Bangor, Millisnoet, Bar Harbor, Calais and St. John, N. B. It will also be possible to use this multiplex system in such a way that the equivalent of 20 telephone circuits may be established on one telephone circuit, although the system will not be utilized for telephone purposes at present.

Special terminal apparatus will be installed in the central offices at Wakefield, Mass., and at Bangor, and special intermediate apparatus will be placed in the Portland central office for the purpose of giving additional strength to the electrical waves.

This multiplex system is the last word in telephone toll transmission. At the present time it is only economical for long lines. While it can be used for distances less than 250 miles, the cost makes it prohibitive for general use.

The installation of the system will assist in giving a prompter service, with a high grade of transmission to Eastern Maine and the maritime provinces without adding to the cable or wire facilities between Boston and Bangor.

Telephone officials say it is almost impossible to obtain proper supplies of telephone cable and pole line equipment, and this multiplex system is one result of the inventive genius and resourcefulness of telephone engineers in meeting the present restricted condition of the supply market.

The system was invented and developed by the scientific staff of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and was first used several months ago between Baltimore and Pittsburg.

Later, as the farmers filled up the frontier, he was favorite food for the table. Today, you find him fairly plentiful only in Nebraska, although he is known in the Klamath lake region of Oregon.

The prairie hen is a gorgeous bird when in a scrappy mood in the spring. Bright and early in the morning a flock of the cocks gather at a spot in the prairie for fighting purposes. They stand about 25 feet apart. Mr. Cock begins a dance, his feet hitting the

THE COST OF LABOR WILL HIT CROPS

N.E.A. Staff Special
WASHINGTON, April 15.—The result of increases in the wages of farm labor will be a serious curtailment in the output of food and feed crops, according to William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry.

"Farmers must pay from 100 per cent. to 400 per cent. more for labor. The small-farm area of the Atlantic slope and the Great Lakes region will be hardest hit. In the prairie country, various machinery cuts down the manpower requirements.

"Market gardeners will be pinched especially. Corn acreage will be cut, wheat somewhat less and oats least of all. There will be a large acreage of grasses. The cotton planters will have time, perhaps, to adjust themselves. Potatoes require almost as much manpower as cotton. The outlook for potato production is uncertain.

Pale, Weak and Nervous

I was very nervous, pale, and so weak that I could not even digest my food right. The physician who was attending me had definitely told me that he did not expect to be able to cure me, but simply to give me relief. My case was called "Nervous indigestion." Just one of my relatives still had confidence, for she was a fervent believer in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and finally persuaded me to give them a trial. I took them regularly and was pleased to notice a decided improvement after a few months of treatment. At the end of a year, my different ailments had gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. As my household duties are rather trying at times, I have resolved that I will take a couple of boxes of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women from time to time, just to keep my strength up.

RED PILLS, Her Friend for Fifteen Years

It is now fifteen years since I first became acquainted with RED PILLS, and I may safely say that they have been my salvation during that time. I was the mother of fifteen children, so that my daily duties were indeed very strenuous and at times trying. I was tired and feeling ill at ease. RED PILLS proved themselves once again, they helped me to regain my strength, saved me from any serious sickness and made me fit to attend properly to my various household duties.

RED PILLS, the Best Tonic

Being the mother of seven children, and having to attend to all the household duties, besides looking after my children, I naturally gave way and became weakened, and suffered severely from indigestion. Having so often read of the various cures effected by the use of RED PILLS, I decided to give them a trial, and after taking them for three months, I was delighted to notice that I was getting stronger and that my health was improving in many ways. Since that time I have firmly made up my mind that I will always take RED PILLS whenever I feel the need of a good tonic to build me up.—Mrs. J. BERUBE, Contractor Drapau is to be commended for turning down the offer of $1000 for the use of the Tabernacle for boxing matches for a single night. Such a use of a building specially erected for a religious revival would be regarded as a desecration.

The president of the State Federation of Teachers evidently believes in dispensing good cheer. It is to be hoped that her prediction that the teachers will soon get their just dues in the matter of higher salaries, will be verified. The local teachers naturally look around and inquire "When is this good time coming?"

General Pershing has at last consented to accept a nomination for the presidency if offered him. That of course will relieve the republican party of very great embarrassment. Mr. Hoover announced his willingness some time ago and if the people of Europe could vote here, Hoover would be elected by a large majority. It now remains to be seen to what extent, if any, the boomers of General Wood will transfer their support to General Pershing.

SHAKESPEARE DAY

Commissioner Claxton of the national bureau of education has issued orders for the observance of a Shakespeare day in the public schools throughout the country. We have the highest regard for Shakespeare and feel that all students should be made acquainted with his principal works at a certain stage of their school career; but we do not believe in interfering with the work of the schools to celebrate the memory of great authors. It should be sufficient to observe our patriotic anniversaries such as the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, but beyond that the line should be drawn in order to prevent complete demoralization of school work.

SUGAR

It is time the government looked into the sugar situation here in New England where the price has gone up to 25 cents a pound with very little to be had even for that price. It seems that if vast quantities of sugar had not been shipped out of the country, the domestic supply would not now be so very deficient. There seems to be too great a readiness to ship our food supply to foreign countries regardless of what may be the result, provided only that the foreigners pay the price. This is evidently a case in which the government should place an embargo on the sugar shipments abroad until the home supply is in some degree adequate to meet the demand.

HEALTH IN BUSINESS

A business man walked into a doctor's office the other day. He looked in the pink of condition. "I want a thorough physical examination," he said. The doctor accommodated him. Heart was sound, lungs were healthy, kidneys and all the other organs functioning properly. "You're the most splendid specimen I've seen in a long time," said the doctor. "Thanks; I intend to remain so," said the client. "You will go over me like this every six months. And I propose to have every man in a responsible position in my organization undergo a similar examination twice a year."

"A competing firm recently put a man into an important job who looked as well as I. He broke down, and in the demoralization of the firm's business that came with his breaking, our firm has taken over some of their biggest and best accounts. A condition of 20 years' standing, which he thought completely overcome, caused that man's breakdown."

"I don't propose that my firm shall suffer through any such experience."

Cold, hard business applied to health. Doesn't personal interest recommend to every man such procedure?

FOSTER, THE RED

Evidence that Red radicals of the W. Z. Foster type are behind the present unauthorized labor strike should induce the sensible men who have been deluded by these anarchistic agitators, to return to work. Foster, as he originally declared, belonged to the labor union only for the purpose of boring from the inside. He has made good his promise. He is certainly boring quite successfully, and that too, in the very foundation of the whole structure of organized labor. So far as the union leaders stand for definite agreements and for law and order they are opposed by Foster and all his followers. Every man on strike is thus placed in the position of being one of Foster's dupes. Foster's aim is revolutionary and anarchistic. He is fully as bad or even more dangerous because of his methods, than any of the Reds who were deported. It remains now to be seen whether the honest labor men who have been following Foster will repudiate his leadership and return to work.

It is high time for the government to take some steps to counteract the effect of radical influence in the ranks of organized labor. Under cover of the unions, the Reds carry on their nefarious plots against the government, none of which is more harmful than the railroad strike. Thus the labor unions are injured by these members who refuse to be bound by their leaders and place organized labor in the attitude of being unable to keep its agreements.

A CRIMINAL STRIKE

At the present time a railroad strike is criminal and should be stopped by the government. The fact that it is promoted by revolutionary leaders should cause the government to give it short shrift. Never was production and distribution so necessary as at present when practically every industry in the country and every building enterprise has been held up awaiting deliveries of material. In some cases the delay was due to shortage of material and in others to a shortage of railroad cars. The railroad strike coming at such a critical period in the industrial situation has caused irreparable loss in delay and idleness. It has also caused a shortage of various kinds of food, the prices of which have naturally jumped beyond all past records.

The anarchistic leaders behind this strike should be deported or if they belong here, they should be put where they can do no harm. They are conducting a conspiracy to overthrow the government and thus far with complete impunity, they have succeeded in inflicting untold loss and suffering upon the people.

But what of the demands of the strikers? Some will ask. It matters not what their demands have been, the strike is unjustified, outlawed and directed against the public welfare. The government has supplied legal machinery to deal with the demands of labor and until these have been invoked, no railroad strike for any reason is justified.

THE ARMENIAN CAUSE

It looks as if Armenia would be fooled by depending upon the United States for assistance in securing her freedom. In all probability Armenia, like Ireland will have to depend mainly upon her own efforts. If the people of Armenia were equipped with arms and munitions to defend themselves against the fanatical Turks, they could successfully inaugurate the republican form of government and make it a success. If the allied powers will only deprive the Turk of the power to slaughter the Armenian people, then Armenia can go her way alone. At the present time there is little prospect of any disposition on the part of the powers to help Armenia to maintain her freedom. There is, however, an apparent purpose to divide up Armenian territory, giving part to Britain and another part to France, ostensibly to save the country from Turkish oppression. Such an arrangement would be fatal to Armenian nationality and independence. A people that has withstood so much persecutions and bloodshed at the hands of the Turks, has certainly the highest possible claim to protection by the civilized powers of the world. Gladstone appealed to Europe in behalf of Armenia and at various times, the whole world was shocked by the massacres perpetrated on the Armenian people by the Turks. These atrocities have been so frequent that the world has ceased to wonder at them and yet even now some of the so-called leaders of civilization are temporizing with Turkey just as in the past. It is almost miraculous that any of the Armenian people are left after centuries of such bloody onslaughts by the Mohammedan forces. If Armenia be not set free as a result of the world war, the flag will stand in history as an everlasting reproach against the great nations that won the victory.

DEFYING THE COURTS

In the labor unions of the United States there always has been a strong spirit of opposition to any form of state control that would enforce compulsory arbitration of labor troubles or restrict the assumed right to strike.

The state of Kansas is now a leader in providing judicial machinery for dealing with industrial difficulties. It has established an industrial court providing judicial means of settlement of all labor disputes. Although the court is young it is already in serious difficulties. District President Howat of the United Mine Workers of America together with three other officers, have actually hurled defiance at the court and as a result have been lodged in jail on the charge of contempt. They have openly stated that if dragged into court, they would actually refuse to answer any questions for the reason that they do not recognize the court's authority or existence.

They are to be held in jail until they agree to answer questions in the new court or until they are let out under bonds to await action by a higher court. In view of the fact that the industrial court of Kansas is the first in the country to make a bold attempt to deal in a judicial manner with industrial troubles, the outcome of this contest will be watched with keen interest throughout the country.

The time is at hand when many of the other states will have to follow the example of Kansas if they are to avoid industrial strikes and chaos.

THE WORLD TRADE

Next June a number of prominent American and European business men will assemble in Paris to attend the first meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce.

This will be a new organization not resulting from the war, inasmuch as it had been planned previous to the outbreak of the war. In view of the critical economic conditions existing in Europe and almost equally so in this country, such an organization may accomplish much good in bringing about international co-operation to promote production and distribution so as to enable all the countries to aid one another in developing trade to an extent that without organized effort would be utterly impossible.

This proposed body has mapped out a very pretentious program which is to create a permanent international headquarters for the purpose of centralizing all data concerning economic subjects and social conditions, with facts concerning the respective needs, the products and future possibilities of each country. It is further to use its influence to suggest trade regulations and legislative measures which will promote the development of economic intercourse.

Another plank in its platform provides for informing the public in the various countries concerning business conditions by placing at the disposal of official organizations the most reliable reports and conclusions prepared by business men relative to trade and economic conditions.

There is no reason why it should not accomplish much good at least for the countries represented in the organization. Mr. Edward A. Filene of Boston is one of the promoters, and few men are better equipped to make this movement a potential influence for promoting the industrial prosperity of the nations so combined.

HELD WHIST PARTY IN EAGLES' HALL

The St. Margaret's parish branch of the League of Catholic Women held an enjoyable whist party in Eagles' hall, Central street, last evening for the benefit of the diocesan bazaar to be held in Boston in the near future. The affair was directed by a committee of which Miss Mabel Cassidy was chairman. In the course of the evening Francis Forman entertained with piano selections. The winners in whist were the following: Women's first prize, Mrs. James McAdams; second, Mrs. John Riley; third, Mrs. Mary Cassidy; gentlemen's first, Arthur T. O'Connell; second, Daniel Shanahan; third, Edward Parley.

That Che-Dee

Down in Kentucky they grow old, as witness the 131-year record of Uncle William Shell. Here is a story that reflects faithfully the state of mind these patriarchs must have:

Uncle William and Aunt Samantha are returning from the funeral of their youngest son, aged 51.

The venerable couple are walking along briskly, though their eyes are dim with tears.

"Samantha," quavers Uncle William, "something always told me we'd never raise that child."

Bulk Means Nothing

Maybe it has been called to your attention often before that mere bulk means nothing in a battle.

"The bigger they are the harder they fall," asserted the celebrated Squire Abner Harrington.

Not long ago a Chicago man appeared for police protection.

The poor guy weighed only 258 pounds.

His better half (emphasize that better) weighed in at 104.

All she did according to the husband's story, was to black his eye, raise two bumps on his head, and throw him out of the house.

Could Weep Easily

A melancholy looking man entered the establishment of a photographer.

"I should like to have a picture of myself weeping beside my wife's grave," he explained.

"I fear I have not the necessary accessories here," said the photographer. Then he added, facetiously: "Couldn't we arrange to have the portrait made at the grave itself?"

"No," said the man; "that's in New York state. It would be too expensive to go there. Just you fix up some kind of a grave here in the shop. I could weep on that. It's no trouble for me to weep anywhere."—Everybody's Magazine.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Many amusing incidents have been occurring in Prescott street this week as a result of the order of Supl. Welch of the police department that the thoroughfare shall no longer be used as a parking place. I watched one of the officers carrying out the order of the chief for a while the other night and he was kept on the job almost continually. Few of the drivers stopping in the street remembered that parking had been put under the ban, but the minute they gave any indication of being dilatory the officer made his way to the machine and politely but firmly told the driver "what's what." Finally a machine turned into the forbidden area from Central street. At the wheel was a middle-aged man and in the other front seat a woman, evidently his wife. They reached one of the shops and stopped. The man got out to get some bundles and the woman was left alone. Immediately the representative of the police department "spotted" the parked auto and proceeded to tell the woman that she must move on. I didn't hear the conversation, but from the uneasy glances she seemed to be casting about her, I assumed that the woman didn't know how to get the car into action. Over across the street her husband was witnessing the affair in the store window, grinning broadly and evidently enjoying the little sketch. Finally he came out, all smiles, and in a few seconds the couple were speeding away. I'd be willing to wager that there were some warm words passed between the two as a result of the incident.

William H. Carney of the Lowell Radio club is one of those who worked hard for the success of the recent demonstration of sending music by wireless telephone. Since that event the club has received many inquiries as to how the thing was done. Clubs in other cities would like to give similar exhibitions. Mr. Carney is an expert in wireless telephony and is deeply interested in the success of the club which may soon give other demonstrations of the wireless telephone.

Discovered! Fountain of Youth, Happiness 'n Everything!

CHICAGO, April 13.—Would you believe she is a grandmother?

This pretty, plump, sparkling-eyed rival of the season's youngest "debutante"—a grandmother?

But she is just that—an honest-to-goodness grandmother—is Mrs. Edward A. Leight, long a prominent member of the fashionable circles of Chicago. She is the mother of Albert Leight, who in turn is the father of an heir to the Leight name and fortune.

Secret of Youth

Mrs. Leight claims the secret of her wondrous youth to be the teachings of Mr. Harry Gaze, exponent of the new psychology of successful living. Mr. Gaze recently came to Chicago and opened a campaign at the auditorium.

Mrs. Leight has known Mr. Gaze for several years. In these years she has religiously practiced his teachings in regard to right living, right thinking, radiating joy, and all the complementary virtues. Mrs. Leight says she owes her "eternal youth" to this applied psychology.

Church of Joy

When the lecturer came to Chicago to spread his teachings, he attracted the attention of a group of public-spirited men, who straightway selected the members of Chicago's inner circle of elite, to attend the opening lectures.

Mr. Gaze is prominently identified with the work of constructive psychoanalysis in New York and Washington. So much so, in fact, that the people of Washington recently erected a temple for him, called the Church of Happiness and Joy. Judging by appearances, Chicago folk are swiftly falling in line, in their enthusiastic admiration of his work.

Mrs. Leight, the youthful grandmother, is further identified as a member of the ways and means committee as well as a director of the federal security corporation.

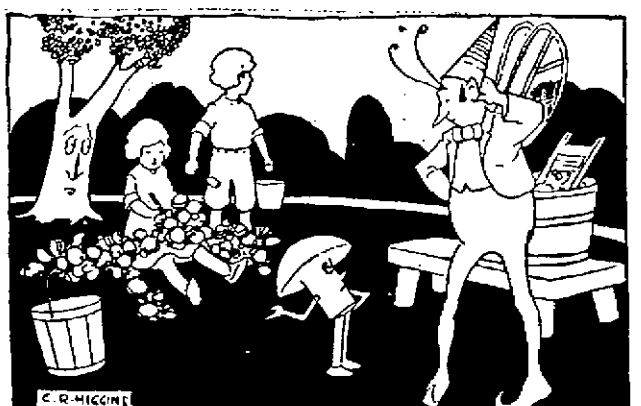

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton.

NANCY AND NICK RUN AN ERRAND

Rubadub, the fairy-man, and the twins, waited in Scrub Up Land for the fairies to return, but for some reason they did not come. "Surely they have had time to slick on the pussy-willow buds," Rubadub said in a puzzled voice, looking at his watch. "Wonder what's keeping them! We must have the yellow paint right away, and there's none nearer than the Fairy Queen's palace."

"THE GREEN SHOES COULD TAKE THE CHILDREN TO THE PALACE AND BACK IN NO TIME TO GET YOUR PAINT, MR. RUBADUB," SAID THE MAGICAL MUSHROOM.

Rubadub got so impatient he couldn't even scrub the woodchuck as he was doing, and had to leave off. "The Green Shoes could take the children to the palace and back in no time to get your paint, Mr. Rubadub," said the Magical Mushroom, "and I could go along."

Rubadub almost turned a somersault in his joy at hearing this, at least he did a handspring. "The very thing, my dears!" he exclaimed. "I was just he inquired of Nancy and Nick, 'Will you really go?'"

The little boy and girl put down their paint brushes and stood up quickly, setting the purple crocuses in a tidy row. "Yes, indeed, Mr. Rubadub, we'd love to run your errand."

So in a twinkling, Nancy and Nick and the Magical Mushroom were on their way to the Fairy Queen's palace, the empty paint buckets clutched tightly in their hands.

MEMORIAL FUND BENEFIT

Minstrel Show and Dance at Associate Hall Was Big Success

With the double purpose in mind of providing worthwhile entertainment and adding to the Pawtucketville memorial fund, the memorial committee staged a thoroughly enjoyable minstrel revue and dance in Associate hall last evening. The Knights of Columbus Glee club put on the minstrel performances.

The setting of the revue was especially admirable and the same is true of the decorations as a whole. A profusion of var-colored streamers were suspended from the balconies to the chandelier in the centre of the hall, and this was tastefully draped with

HENRY P. TIGNE
Floor Director

American flags and flowers. Festoons of colored bunting, entwined with flags, threaded their way along the sides of the hall, and twinkling electric lights, partly concealed by greenery and flowers, added to the completeness of the decorative scheme. The stage itself, on which were grouped the entertainers, was partially hidden by lattice work with potted plants, greenery and red, white and blue bunting playing a prominent part in the foreground.

The revue opened promptly at 8 o'clock, and the program, which was essentially the same as given by the Glee club on previous occasions this year, was thoroughly enjoyed. The soloists included Miss Beata Gendreau, Miss Sadie Sheehan, Edward Donahue, Andrew A. McCarthy, John P. Roane, Jr., Thomas E. Tobin, Edward D. Cameron, Jack McCardie, George S. Sullivan, and Commissioner James E. Donnelly. Any attempt to chronicle in detail the various successes scored by the young people would lead to interminable columns. Popular song hits, specialty dances and even whistling solos went to make up the evening's program, and each succeeding soloist seemed determined to outdo those who had preceded. It was an evening of pleasure in every sense of the word.

Andrew Molloy an intercomedian showed his experience in this line by carrying on the show with precision and pep. William P. Thornton, musical director, must be given a large share of credit for the success attending the performance and, in fact, everyone connected with the affair is entitled to great credit. William Paul McCarthy acted as accompanist.

MISS ETTA BLESSINGTON,
Assistant Floor Director

Following the revue, dancing was enjoyed until midnight and this phase of the program was also thoroughly enjoyed.

The committee in charge was: Cornelius P. Cronin, general manager; Edward P. Cunningham, assistant general manager; Miss Etta Blessington and Henry P. Tigne, floor directors; William H. Richy, treasurer, and Rev. A. G. Lyon, secretary.

Mrs. Thomas Chadwick headed the refreshment committee and was ably assisted by Mrs. Hartley Roberts, Mrs. P. Bronnahan, Mrs. E. McCarthy, Mrs. E. P. Cunningham, Mrs. H. Merrill, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mrs. G. Flint, Mrs. C. Patrick, Mrs. William Sexton and Mrs. William Axon.

HONOR TO SERVICE MEN

Y.M.C.I. Holds Annual Banquet and Testimonial in Memorial Hall

If the Young Men's Catholic Institute of Belvidere stages no more social functions for a decade to come, its members and friends who were present at the 30th annual banquet and testimonial to service men held last evening in Memorial hall, will have available sufficient pleasant and inspiring memories to thrill them for a life-time. For certainly last evening's affair was prolific with those elements that make for permanent and happy recollections. The honoring of 102 living veterans of the world war and tribute to the one member who made the supreme sacrifice, Capt. Paul Kittredge, orator from the lips of those well gifted in that art, music, dinner and the happy companionship of relatives and friends made the occasion notable in Y.M.C.I. circles and indeed in the annals of the city itself. There will be fewer pages brighter in the Institute's history than that written last evening.

Judge Michael F. Kennedy of Natick was the principal speaker of the evening and rarely has Memorial hall resounded with more stirring remarks, more eloquent tribute to patriots and more laudatory tributes to the part played by women in the world war. Gifted with force and a fine discrimination in the handling of English, Judge Kennedy proved inspirational to every man and woman in the hall.

Rev. William J. Farrell of Newton, former chaplain of the 103d field artillery of the 26th division and winner of the Croix de Guerre, was another speaker who touched deeply the hearts of his listeners. His stories of the battlefield, humorous at times but more often touched by the great seriousness of war, found a ready response not alone among the men who had served in the war but all others appreciative of the love of fighting men for those who were with them as chaplains in their hours of need.

Other speakers included Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., of the Immaculate Conception church. He spoke on "The Church" in place of Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., spiritual director of the Institute, who was unable to be present. Mayor Perry D. Thompson spoke on "Our City" and Thomas M. Higgins on "Our Service Members." The toastmaster of the evening was Frank T. McCartin who not only filled that office most wittily and gracefully but also gave a most informative address on "Our Society." Thomas E. Clark, president of the organization, made the address of welcome. Seated at the head table besides the speakers were Mrs. Thompson, wife of the mayor; Mrs. Frank P. McCartin, members of the clergy and others.

Nearly 500 men and women sat down shortly after 8 o'clock to an excellent turkey dinner served by Lydon, the caterer. Orchestra music gave an added touch of life to the scene and infinity decorations on the tables provided an atmosphere of warmth and cordiality. When an hour had passed President Clark called to order and without extended remarks introduced Toastmaster McCartin.

Mr. McCartin reviewed the early days of the Y.M.C.I. going back 30 years to the time it was founded by Rev. William Joyce, O.M.I. Many charter members are still active workers in the institute, he said.

"There is a spirit about our organization," the speaker continued, "not found in all others. It is built on the firmest of foundations, the church. The Y.M.C.I. has always been a great influence in the life of our city and in the various activities in which it has been engaged it has always been a leader. Our building in Belvidere is one of the finest anywhere when one considers the small fees paid by our members. We offer material and spiritual advantages rarely found in any society."

The toastmaster then explained that the occasion was primarily a banquet to the returned service men of the institute but also the 30th anniversary of the society's birth.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., was the first speaker introduced by the toastmaster. In opening, he paid a tribute to President Clark, "a grandson of a Civil war veteran and one of my dear old Cadet captains."

After expressing the regrets of Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., who had been called out of the city, Rev. Fr. Sullivan said: "The topic 'Our Church' is most comprehensive. It would be much easier to speak on some single aspect of the church. Many a moral earthquake has upset the world since the first pope, but never has there been such unrest as there is at the present time. The world looks, and looks rightly to the Catholic church for help and salvation. The church has never failed to answer the cry; the church has always been the strongest ally of the state in solving her difficulties."

"If there is any power on earth that can restrain the anti-social tendencies of man it is the church. Happily, the state seems to be coming to the conclusion that neither internal nor external peace is possible without religion. How can we expect social peace when our leaders gather 'round the peace table and not one of them has enough to invoke a divine blessing?"

"The church's idea of justice embraces the justice, the truth and the charity of God. Those are the principles embodied in this society for which our young men fought and for which some of them laid down their lives. You men must see to it that real justice prevails, that Bolshevism is crushed. Remember, where the church is, there is peace. If you're true to the principles of your church, there is no doubt that our church, our state and our society will stand securely."

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was introduced as a "product of Belvidere" and received a cordial welcome. Following a few minutes of humorous digressions, the mayor dwelt on the advantages of such a society as the Y.M.C.I.

"The greatest thing you have," he said, "is your opportunity to mingle with your fellowmen under suitable conditions and learning of the good in each of them. I believe the world is coming to accept the principle that we should think of the other fellowman. Your organization gives you a great opportunity to practice that principle so that after you have crossed the stage of life it may be said of you that you did something to help your fellowmen."

The mayor then paid a fitting tribute to the service men and said that those who remained at home should not be forgotten. The Y.M.C.I. was one of the first organizations to give comforts to the soldiers and sailors, he pointed out, and some measure of tribute should be extended to those who made the comforts possible. He urged the members to heed well the words of their spiritual directors so that they the glory of their country, their state and their city.

Rev. William J. Farrell

Rev. William J. Farrell was the next speaker. As one of the 26th Division chaplains he had had an opportunity to mingle with many Lowell boys in France and for that reason said that he did not feel entirely out of place in Lowell.

His address was a series of alternations between humorous and serious anecdotes of his experiences. He took emphatic exception to the statements that were circulated here at home by "fanatics or German sympathizers," to the effect that the American soldiers were victims of drunkenness and immorality.

"Boys who will kneel in the mud in the pouring rain as they did on one Christmas day to hear mass, who will give their all to their chaplain," he said, "are not likely to be bad boys. There is only one word in the English language that I can use to express my sentiments for these boys—I love them."

"We tried to impress upon them that the chaplains were there just to help them, that we were not on a higher pedestal than themselves. The love and affection of the American soldier for his chaplain was one of the most touching phases of the war. After a shell attack the first sound that would come out of the darkness would be the voice of a soldier: 'Is the father all right?' Rev. Fr. Farrell urged a continuation of the fraternal relations between priests and young men here at home.

Judge Michael F. Kennedy

Judge Michael F. Kennedy, principal speaker of the evening, had been assigned the topic, "Women's Part in the War," but he took occasion also to pay a tribute to the men who served in the great conflict.

The United States, he said, had been saved eternally by the loyal soldiers who served her in the world war. "The thanks of America tonight and forever must be paid you men," he continued. "In years to come you will have the same great memories that the veterans of the Civil war have now when they come to this hall and look at the paintings here?"

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, and you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

and of the Civil war have now when they come to this hall and look at the paintings here?

"In the world war we saw France weakening under the strain. England had not started to help. Germany knew her chance had come to strike a blow at the heart of Paris. Onward they went to within 50 miles of Paris. You remember the 'Big Bear'—you remember that the enemy went on to within 10 miles of Paris. The destiny of the world lay in that city at the time. Aid was sought and America answered the call. We answered because we believed that the future of America and of the world was at stake. Catholic boys of Lowell and of the rest of the country, led by great Catholic leaders, answered the call and broke through the lines. Germany threw up her hands and cried: 'America, you have won the freedom of the world.'"

ANTI-FAT

Art thou stout and getting stouter? Stop repining—cease to moan; lift thee to the nearest drug store—ask for "Tablets Arbolone."

Arbolone will stop that craving. Make thee normal—that's well known. Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling After taking Arbolone.

And the pounds away will dwindle—Waist no longer like a zone; Thou'lt be thankful to the maker Of those Tablets Arbolone.

Note.—This little poem was written by a literary woman of Los Angeles, Calif., as a testimonial to Tablets Arbolone. It so aptly and truthfully describes the virtues of this well-known anti-fat that the proprietors use it for advertising. Facts and gratitude are both expressed with admirable rhythm and measure.

Continued

"You Catholic boys had paid your great debt to the United States. You had saved civilization."

The speaker then paid a sterling tribute to the part played by women in the war, the patience and suffering of mothers waiting and watching for their sons. Joan of Arc, he said, was the greatest patriot in history. He also spoke in high terms of the work done by the Knights of Columbus in the conflict.

Thomas M. Higgins

Thomas M. Higgins spoke for the service men. During his remarks all the service men present arose, and were roundly applauded. He said that the spirit of sacrifice demonstrated in the war had been implanted and nurtured under the watchful care of the spiritual directors of the young men who fought the war. He said that the church alone will solve the present problems of the world and in conclusion, he urged his comrades to do all in their power to aid in proper reconstruction.

In the course of the evening there were solos by Joseph M. Reilly, accompanied by Paul J. Angelo; Miss Florence McManus, Patrick Maguire, Miss Beata Gendreau and Connelstoner Jas. E. Dannelly. The program closed with a short after midnight with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

He is represented by James F. Owens and B. J. Moloney, while Kervin & Reilly appear for Mr. Scannell.

NEW SECRETARY-MANAGER FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL ARRIVE MONDAY

William N. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, received telegraphic assurance today from Geo. F. Wells of Jansville, Wis., that he will report here for duty as secretary-manager of the local chamber on Monday. As that day is a holiday, his real work will not begin until the day following.

Mr. Wells will take over all of the routine work now being looked after by President Goodell and will have John J. O'Rourke, formerly secretary of the old board of trade, as his assistant. In fact, the business administration of the chamber will be in his hands, although the president and board of directors will exercise supervisory powers.

RAILROAD STRIKE HITS UNDERTAKERS

Local undertakers, it is understood, are being hard hit by the railroad strike in New York, for most of the local firms are dealing either with New York or Philadelphia concerns and inasmuch as there is a railroad tie-up in that part of the country they are not receiving shipments.

A local undertaker stated this morning that owing to the freight embargo no merchandise for undertakers has been shipped by freight for the past six months, all the goods being sent by express, which meant an increase of over 100 per cent in the cost of transportation, but now matters are still worse for goods are not even being shipped by express. Some of the undertakers keep pretty well supplied with stock, but others do not, and the latter, of course, are being affected by the strike. "Our business," said an undertaker, "is not like others, for we have to have the goods when we need them and we cannot wait. If this strike keeps on a few days more I will be forced to go to New York over the road and bring in what is most urgently needed."

FRESHET FEVER

IS GOING DOWN

The Merrimack river water at the Pawlucket dam had receded about 5 inches this morning from yesterday's high freshet mark, although a huge volume of water is still pouring over the falls more than 6 feet above the stone crest.

It is the opinion of Arthur T. Safford, chief engineer of the Locks and Canals that the peak of the spring freshet has been reached and that it is doubtful if the river will again rise this year even to approach its present height. However, heavy and continuous rains in New Hampshire later this month might cause another rapid swelling, but one which would recede almost as quickly as it rose.

*in the greatest business
in the world*

YOU are going to do an act this month whose influence will carry around the world.

It will seem a simple thing to you—merely making a gift in the Interchurch World Campaign.

But in Church hospitals all over the country sick people will be made happier, for part of your gift will go to them.

In scores of children's homes supported by the Church more children will have a chance.

In China where there is one doctor to every 400,000 people (America has one to every 712) the Church's medical forces will be strengthened and encouraged.

Babies who might have died

In India where a third of the babies die before their second year, the lives of babies will be saved.

Church schools and colleges will share your gift [half of America's 450,000 students in institutions of higher grade are in Church institutions].

In preachers' homes where preachers' wives have patched and darned and wetted their work with their tears, life will be happier and better. [80% of the preachers now are paid less than $20 a week.]

These are some of the things your money will do. And this is

What your money will not do

It will not put two Churches where only one should be. The Movement means thirty denominations pledged to prevent duplication and waste.

It will not be spent in useless overhead. At least a million dollars will be saved by the merging of thirty campaigns into one united effort.

Your life will be at work in every land

Whether you are a Church member, or whether you merely contribute, you will put your life to work—through the Church—in every corner of the World. And long after your life is over its influence will survive and serve.

These are the terms in which to think of the Church.

We have thought too long about it in terms of little things. Let us get a picture this month of its world-wide sweep. Let us stop thinking of ourselves as givers of pennies.

We are fellow-workers with Almighty God—stockholders in the greatest business in the world.

COMMUNITY MEETING
AND EXHIBITION

What will be the first meeting of its kind in that to be held in the Varnum school tomorrow evening under the auspices of the International Institute. It will be a community meeting and exhibition. In other words a Polish mass meeting, designed not only to display the handwork of the Polish people who have been attending school in that section, but also to give Americanization work a gentle boost.

The Polish community in Centralville, which has been actively engaged in many projects in the line of school work and vocational training for some time past under the direction of workers of the Institute, is one of the most progressive community sections in Lowell.

Miss Blanton of the International Institute and Miss Smith have given considerable of their time and initiative in arranging the meeting and it is expected that the initial presentation will be productive of great results.

The program will be as follows:
Chorus, Selected.
Normal School Students and Community Club Girls.
Words of Welcome.
Rev. Joseph Soltysiac.
Polish Folk Song.
Miss Caroline Urbanek.
Address.
Mr. Hugh J. Molloy, Supt. of Schools.
Recitation and Polish Couplets.
Mrs. Julia Wojtaszek.
Solo.
Mrs. Joseph Green.
Address.
Mr. Jacob Tark.
Violin solo.
Mr. Edward Daly.
Irish Lull.
Elizabeth Flemings, Esther Sharf.
Anna Belle Virue.
Song.
Mr. James Donnelly.
Chorus, selected.
American and Polish Patriotic Songs.
Audience.
The audience is invited to visit the exhibition of dresses and hats made by the pupils during attendance at the vocational classes at the Varnum school. There is also an exhibition of handwork kindly loaned by the Polish ladies of the community.

CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB
Changes to make room for added recreational features are contemplated by the Centralville Social club in West Sixth street. The upper portion of the building is used for meetings and the basement for games and amusement. The club has a couple of pool tables, card tables and other games and, according to present plans, the basement equipment will be moved to the upper part of the building and a couple of bowling alleys will be installed in the basement. Eczema Caused
Years of Intense
Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me,"—Geo. C. Talbot, 27 Penfield Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I've got a hundred testimonials," says Peterson of Buffalo. "Just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago, when I first started to put out PETERSON'S OINTMENT, I made up my mind to give a big box for 25 cents, and I am still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows."

"I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to everyone who buys a box that it is rigidly guaranteed for eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blisters and itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, chapping, burns, scalds, and sunburn, and if not satisfactory any druggist will return your money."

that the furniture of the club will be renewed. At a recent meeting of the club it was voted to conduct a social and dance for the benefit of the improvements some time this month, and the following committee was appointed to look after arrangements: Venance Payreau, chairman; Andre Bouthillier, secretary; Jean Bouthillier, treasurer; Leo Major, Adolard Gagnon, Albert Ducharme and George Lemire.

WARNING TO TAXI AND TRUCK OPERATORS

Declaring that many Lowell taxi-cab and commercial truck operators have as yet failed to comply with the recently enacted law requiring these vehicles to be equipped with mirrors so constructed that the driver is enabled to obtain free and unobstructed view of the highway immediately in the rear, Supt. Welch of the local police department stated today that unless local drivers comply with this regulation immediately drastic action will be taken.

Failure to have mirrors attached to these machines has resulted in several accidents here in the past month, he pointed out, and in order that motor vehicle accidents will be reduced to a minimum in Lowell it is essential that this as well as other auto laws should be strictly observed. This is positively the last warning that taxi-cab and truck operators will receive, he declared.

GOES BACK FROM WHENCE IT CAME

Almost $500 worth of whiskey disappeared from the police station cellar last night.

This refers to the three barrels of whiskey seized early in the week by the local police.

We know who took it, too.

It was John R. O'Dea, Lowell's recently appointed prohibition enforcement agent.

Mr. O'Dea, of course, had a right to take it, as his superior officers had ordered him to remove it from the local bastille to Boston, where it will remain in the custody of the federal authorities until such time as they decide to destroy it.

Supt. Welch says he's glad its gone. Standing guard over three barrels of whiskey in these dry times is a strenuous job, he contends, and now that it has been taken from the local station his mind is considerably relieved.

Mr. O'Dea gave him a receipt for it, too.

The population of Canada for 1920 has been estimated at 9,000,000 as compared with 7,000,000 in 1911.

England Convinced
Every love note convinces English that "vamps" really exist. On the other day all England believed that. It believed the "vamp" was a creation of the American movie factories. But since the case of Mrs. Thelma Dorothy Hamberger has been heard, English sensation lovers have changed their minds. This now famous divorce case has all the ingredients of the most thrilling movie play ever screened. The husband, an officer, away at the front; the wife, so beautiful that she numbers her admirers by the number of men who have a change to meet and gaze into her beautiful eyes or hear the tones of her dulcet voice. Even one of the officers of the king's armies fell in love with her. Some "vamp" we'll say.

Seeks Vice-Presidency
A California woman just might be the next vice-president of the United States. Marie C. Brehm, Long Beach, noted club worker and well known lecturer of international fame, is the one upon whom this honor may be conferred. Women politicians, sensing the power of their sex in the coming elections, and knowing the widespread interest among women on the no-drink question, think it not at all an unlikely thing a woman may be successful, running as a candidate for the vice-presidency of the United States. A traveler in many foreign countries, Miss Brehm has represented the spread of temperance, and has been appointed at the world's anti-alcoholic congress.

Successor to Sousa
The successor to John Philip Sousa has been discovered. He is Raymond Stuart Baird, the youngest orchestra leader in the world. Raymond is still a young man, barely five years old in fact, for two weeks he directed a 40-piece orchestra in Los Angeles, impersonating the famous Sousa. He also has directed orchestras at Long Beach, Cal., and at Pasadena and in Salt Lake City.

"Freedom of Film"
Backed by an organization said to number more than 2000 theatre owners from every state and city in the United States, moving picture exhibitors have launched a fight to escape what they term the grasp of Wall Street and British capital reaching out in an endeavor to gain not only absolute financial control of the moving picture industry but also to feed propaganda unhampered to the American people. Read about this big "Freedom of Film" fight in The Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

TRACTORS COME IN ALL SIZES

This—1920—will be the biggest tractor-building year in history.

Last year beat all previous records. But tractor manufacturers announce a much larger building program, and there are more tractor plants now than in 1919.

By use of the tractor it is hoped to overcome the farm shortage of human and animal labor. The tractor will do anything the horse did, and it will require less human labor than horse-drawn farm machinery.

When the tractor was first put on the market it was argued that only the farmer with a large acreage would find it profitable. Now there are thousands of 80-acre farmers, and truck gardeners using the tractor. They use it not only to plow the land, but to haul wagons, disks, harrows, drags, cultivators, harvesters, and to furnish motive power for wood sawing and butter churning.

Once the tractor was a big, clumsy affair. There still are giant tractors, as per picture above. Here a large caterpillar tractor is breaking up new prairie land, hauling eight 36-inch disc plows in preparing the ground for planting. Two men handle eight plows. Under the old order of things it would have required at least 16 horses and eight men to do this work.

Also there is the baby tractor, as per picture inset above. It, too, has caterpillar wheels, and is a small affair compared to its larger brother. This tiny tractor is intended for use on small farms and truck gardens.

In the past five years 516,600 farm tractors have been manufactured in the United States. Of these 120,000 were sold abroad, and 125,000 reserved for service in this country. Meanwhile, the value of horses has declined from $2,114,597,000 (in 1915) to $1,052,542,000 (in 1919.)

CALL FIREMEN MAY JOIN
PERMANENT FORCE

Commissioner John P. Salmon of the fire department has tendered a formal offer to the 11 call firemen, whose positions are to be abolished as a result of a vote of the municipal council last Tuesday, to join the permanent force of the department. The following letter has been sent to each of the callmen:

Dear Sir: You are herewith notified that the municipal council on the 13th day of April passed a vote, a copy of which follows:

"Resolved: That the unit of the fire department, heretofore designated as the call force of said department, is unnecessary and in the interests of economy and sound administration of the fire department said call force should be abolished."

You are further notified that, if you desire, and you pass the requisite physical examination, I shall appoint

you a member of the permanent force of the fire department of the city of Lowell.

Kindly advise me at once if you desire to be a member of the permanent force of the fire department.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN P. SALMON,
Commissioner of Fire Department.

As yet none of the firemen has indicated any desire of becoming a member of the permanent force. Ten days after the passage of the vote abolishing the call force, each of the callmen will be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner if he wishes it.

ALLIED WARNING TO GERMANY

Great Britain, France and Belgium Join in Note—Threaten to Shut Off Food

Will Demand Germany Execute Disarmament and Demobilization Clauses

PARIS, April 16.—The representatives in Berlin of Great Britain, France and Belgium will join in a warning to Germany that she must execute without delay the disarmament and demobilization clauses of the peace treaty, according to present plans.

It is understood that the charge d'affaires will also say to the German government that in case the necessary measures are not taken, the allied powers will not suppress the allies may refuse further deliveries of foodstuffs.

Agreement among the allies for the execution of the Versailles treaty was reported in dispatches from Paris on Thursday. The disarmament clauses of the treaty were particularly mentioned in this connection and a proposal to cut off food supplies from Germany was forecast in the event of a refusal on her part to meet the provisions of these clauses.

Switzerland now relies on the United States for its coal supply.

NO PREPARATION FOR COMING PRIMARIES

The creation of the new bi-partisan election commission for this city is still causing more or less uncertainty at city hall relative to the administration of various details concerning the presidential primaries to be held here on April 27.

Although the date of the primaries is only a little more than a week away there has not yet been any calling together of the voters and the hours during which the polls are to remain open have not yet been designated.

In past years the municipal council usually passed a formal order calling a meeting of the voters and designating the hours of voting, but as yet the council has taken no action in this direction in preparation for the coming primaries.

There has been some doubt as to whether the new election commission should name the hours or whether that function still rests with the municipal council. City Clerk Stephen Flynn has been waiting for the matter to be straightened out but up to noon today had received no definite assurance whether he should present the matter to the council for action or whether it should be left in the hands of the election commission. However, pending the arrival of definite information on the matter, Mr. Flynn planned to have a special meeting of the council called tomorrow morning and have the usual order passed.

In past years presidential primaries have been held from 12 noon to 8 p. m. One year the polls closed at 4 p. m. It is probable that the same general hours will prevail this year although there has been more or less agitation to have the polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. in order that returns may be received early.

It has been pointed out that few other cities in the state have such late voting hours as Lowell and the cause is traced by some to the efforts of election officers to keep the polls closed until noon so that they may put in half a day's work at their regular employment and then get the usual remuneration for working at the polls in the afternoon and early evening. On the other hand, if they are called upon to begin their duties at 6 a. m. and continue until 4 p. m. an entire day is "spoiled" and they earn only what they get from the city.

OH BOY! WHAT A NICE VACATION!

If you are a member of the United States naval force on inactive duty, and haven't decided just where you'll spend your summer vacation, just give this announcement the once over:

You, and all other reservists on inactive duty throughout the city, are eligible to participate in the annual midshipmen's cruise to be conducted by the naval department this summer—which includes a visit to Hawaii, Panama, and other ports.

The cruise will start May 10 from Philadelphia, Pa., and the Second Battleship Squadron, which will carry the vacationists, will return to American waters September 1. Transportation expenses to Philadelphia will be paid by Uncle Sam—who also guarantees to see that all expenses on the trip are settled for, Uncle also provides your car fare home when you return.

Lowell men who wish to make the trip should get in touch with Chief Carey of the local naval recruiting station at Merrimack Square immediately, who will furnish all necessary information.

Former naval service men can take this cruise by enlisting for two years, but no re-enlistment is required of the naval reservists.

Work on Auditorium

has arrived at the auditorium site and is being mixed for settings. Final traces of the wooden tabernacle disappeared today when the further end of the building was torn down and some 30 or 35 workmen are employed getting the ground in condition for the foundations of the structure. At the junction of Brown and East Merrimack streets considerable new land has been formed by dumpings of earth from the high school site. There still remain a large number of cellar walls to be removed before actual construction is started.

At the high school site another scene of activity is available. Fully half of the land included in the site has been excavated and as the passerby views it from Kirk street it gives somewhat the idea of a huge bowl carved out of the area. Excavations have reached the present high school building and the concrete sidewalk in Kirk street. A huge derrick has been erected and this morning a steam shovel was alternately removing large boulders and loads of dirt.

Introduces New Idea

Chairman Delaney, will probably crystallize into formal action by the school committee at a later date.

One of the salient points brought out by many of the speakers was that more attention must be paid in Lowell's schools to the fundamentals of education. The three "R's" are not receiving the attention they should, it was asserted.

The junior high school plan was also discussed at length and while most of the masters favored the idea, it was brought out that it would involve considerable expense to have the buildings adapted for the purpose. The present school committee has taken no action on the junior high school matter, although the 1919 committee voted to have it become operative next September.

Chairman Delaney informed the masters that if at any time they had any complaints to make they should be made to the superintendent of schools who will bring the matter to the attention of the committee and that body will take action on whatever suggestions or complaints brought before it.

It is planned to have such conferences between the committee and the masters at regular intervals from now on so that the school board members may get an accurate idea of just what the condition of the city's educational system is from the mouths of the men who are connected with it day in and day out.

Chairman Delaney said today that the teachers of the city would also be asked to confer with the committee within a few weeks so that whatever complaints or suggestions for improvement they have may be made public and acted upon by the school board. In this way it is hoped to attain greater co-operation between the people who are actually running the schools and the administrative officers.

MONDAY EVENING CLUB

What was formerly known as the Lowell Evening club is now the Monday Evening club. At a recent meeting of the organization the following officers were elected:

Dr. Chas. Simpson of the state board of health, chairman; Mrs. Kate Kohlman of the Lowell Club, vice chairman; Miss Alice E. Sullivan, chairman of the children relief of the Red Cross, secretary and treasurer; directors, Miss Emily Skilton, Miss Genevieve Lawrence, president of the Teachers' organization; Miss Macklin Beattie of the Girls' community service; Miss May Lowrey, representative of the League of Catholic Women; Miss Mary Broad, of Lowell Social Service League; and Miss Elizabeth Sheridan, president of the Industrial Nurses' association.

VE OLDEN TIMES

Senior Day was observed by the class of 1920 at the high school this afternoon at the close of the usual session. As was the case last year the boys strolled about the hall, wearing Brown collars, while the girls let their hair hang in braids, adorned with large colored ribbons. The idea was to bring back the fresher days as much as possible, in spite of the dignity of being seniors. Dancing was enjoyed for an hour, with the social committee of the class in charge of what few arrangements were necessary.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE.
An enjoyable meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held last evening in the college hall in Merrimack street. President Tancende J. Blanchette occupied the chair and in the early part of the evening considerable important business concerning the organization was transacted. At the close of the business session a social hour was held during which refreshments were served and an entertainment program was given, a feature of the affair being a wrestling exhibition between "Joe" Bisallick and Edgar Gagne. There were also enjoyable piano selections by J. H. Blouin and Leo Fyfe.

CARD OF THANKS.
We, the undersigned, wish to thank our relatives and friends for their words of kindness and their beautiful flowers and spiritual bouquets sent to lighten the sorrow caused by the death of our dear wife, daughter and sister.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS DEBATE

Two teams, the boys on the affirmative and the girls on the negative side, clashed at 3 o'clock this afternoon in high school hall in a debate on the resolve that "Capital punishment should be abolished in Massachusetts." The debaters were Misses Maher, Grace Burke and Helen Quinn; Messrs. Adel Bourgeois, Homer Bourgeois and Raymond Crowley—all members of the Greenhalge Debating society. Those who acted as judges were Lawyer P. J. Reynolds, Dr. Hagley and Lawyer Max Goldman, all old time debaters of the high school.

During the intermission when the judges were conferring, an interesting floor debate by human suffrage was staged.

Considerable interest is aroused this year in debating and meetings are held every week instead of every two weeks as before. The officers of the club endeavored to make arrangements with the debating team of Cambridge high and Latin school but were unsuccessful, so plans are now in the air to stage a debate with the alumni.

ROOM FOR PLAYGROUND.
City Solicitor William D. Regan was in Cambridge today conferring with the Middlesex county commissioners relative to the relocation of the new First street highway so that room might be left for a playground along the Merrimack riverbank. Mr. Regan had previously gone over the plans with the Jocks and Canals with relation to various legal aspects of the project.

$40,000 Worth of Liquor Seized

WORCESTER, April 16.—Twenty barrels of liquor, valued at $40,000, believed by the police to be part of the stock stolen from the storehouse of M. H. O'Leary in Brighton, Sunday, were seized early this morning by federal officers in a raid on the home of Jeremiah J. Sullivan, a former Worcester liquor dealer, here. The liquor was found in Sullivan's cellar, and it was loaded onto trucks and started over the road to Boston. Sullivan and a former bartender employed by him, Charles Connors, were taken by the officers to Boston in automobiles.

OVERALLS CLUBS FORMED IN MANY PLACES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 16.—The "Overalls club" movement, intended as a protest against high prices of clothing, is spreading rapidly throughout the southwest, according to reports received here.

Despatches said clubs had been formed in numerous places in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas.

The movement in Missouri began at Jefferson City where state house officials and employees are signing pledges to wear denim until clothing prices fall.

Federal employees, both men and women, at Wichita, joined by 110 employees of the Litchfield Exchange, reported an overall club, with the movement spreading through the Wichita high schools.

An announcing organization of an overall club at Kansas University. Chancellor Frank Strong said he would lead the membership among the young men and that Mrs. Strong would set an example for the young women by adopting the cottage apron and the approved garb for both home and street wear.

The movement in Oklahoma is of state-wide proportions, Oklahoma City reported.

Dallas and Amarillo, Tex., and Pine Bluff and Hot Springs, Ark., reported formation of clubs.

WIBLE CONFERENCE

Rev. J. C. Masse, D.D., of New York, was the speaker last night at a session of the bible conference held in the First Baptist church.

While Dr. Masse preached in the auditorium, Lyell Under addressed an overflow meeting in the vestry. It was announced that at the last session of the conference tonight Rev. George T. Stephens, evangelist, will give his farewell address to Lowell people. Other speakers will be Dr. Masse and Rev. George McNeely.

L. W. W. FOR ONE BIG UNION

Plans Revealed in Statement
By Big Bill Haywood and John Sandgren

Deny Any Connection Between I. W. W. and Insurgent Railroad Organization

CHICAGO, April 16.—Plans of the Industrial Workers of the World to advocate the one big union movement during the present unrest among railroad workers were revealed in a statement by William D. Haywood, former general secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., and John Sandgren, editor of the Big Union Monthly, published here today.

The two leaders were quoted as denying any connection between the I. W. W. and insurgent railroad organizations now on strike, but said efforts had been made to institute "industrial unionism" and the unauthorized rail strikes as in all other strikes of importance.

"We have always agitated toward securing recruits for the one big union idea," Haywood was quoted as saying. "We did so in the Gary steel strike, and we are probably will do so as long as we are an organization—for we consider that the goal of all industrial organizations."

"Plans which the I. W. W. have been advocating include a complete organization for a one big union with the ultimate goal of taking over the railroads and operating them by the union."

"These plans are briefly: The use of both verbal and printed propaganda to wean the railroaders away from all other organizations until the one big union would have sufficient strength to declare a general strike on all lines in all crafts thus precipitating the crisis through which it is hoped the companies will pass into the hands of the unions."

As a result of a weed-cutting campaign carried out in New Orleans in the spring of 1916, the number of hay fever cases was reduced to less than 50 per cent. of the usual prevalence.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have had noises go to your ears and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should get this prescription at a trial.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

"SHOCK" WHISKEY FROM U. S. REACHES SCOTLAND

GREENOCK, Scotland, April 15.—American rye whiskey now being imported into this country is said to be of the "shock" variety by the chief constable here, who has filed a report on the subject.

The effects of pre-war whiskey, he says, even when it had not been bonded for three years before being sold at retail, were nothing in character to those of some of the present-day whiskeys, which only recently made their appearance here.

"Whatever their composition is," the officer declares, "their effects are terrible. They not only poison, but madden, and leave persons nervous and depressed after the intoxicating effects have passed away."

"These whiskeys are known locally as 'snake-bite,' says the chief.

PLANS FOR A NEW POLITICAL PARTY

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 16.—Representatives of "liberal" organizations met here today on the call of the committee of 48, which is sponsoring a new political party to discuss plans for placing candidates for national and state offices in the field at the November election.

Amalgamation of the labor party, non-partisan league, single tax association and similar bodies is sought, the committee's announcement said.

OBSERVE PATRIOTS DAYPatriotic Programs in Local Schools Deal With Significance of Day

Patriotic day, which will be celebrated next Monday, April 19, was formally observed in many of the local schools today. Patriotic programs dealing with the historical significance of the occasion were carried out in the halls of a number of schools while others exercises were confined to the various class rooms.

There were no formal exercises at the high school. All the public and parochial schools closed this afternoon not to re-open until next Tuesday morning.

In those schools where formal exercises were held, the following were

STEEL WORKER FALLS FROM STAGING

Thomas Furey of 151 Mt. Vernon street, a steel worker in the employ of the Abernethy Construction Co., on the erection of the new plant of the Ray State Cotton Corp. in Broadway, is in a serious condition at the Lowell Corporation hospital as a result of an accident, which occurred this morning while he was at his work.

Furey was working on a staging on the tower of the building, about 45 feet from the ground, when shortly after 10 o'clock one of the planks of the staging broke and the man fell to the ground. He received injuries to his head and probable internal injuries. He is about 25 years of age.

INTRODUCES NEW IDEASchool Committee Chairman Calls Important Conference of Masters

An innovation in the management and conduct of Lowell's public schools that gives promise of great benefit was introduced by Chairman Thomas B. Delaney of the school committee last evening when he called a conference of all the masters and principals of the local grammar schools for a frank and candid discussion of the present methods employed in the school department.

The conference was held in the school committee's rooms in city hall.
All the members of the committee with the exception of Julian B. Keyes, who is ill, were present together with every grammar school master and principal of the city. Supt. Hugh J.
Molloy, Principal Henry H. Harris of the high school, Major Walter R.
Jeyes, physical instructor in the elementary grades and Miss Vera E.
Groves, special teacher.

The conference continued for nearly four hours and in that time many ideas relative to the improvement of school management were received by the committee and, according to Chairman Delaney, will be taken into consideration.

ANOTHER BIG DOWNTOWN REAL ESTATE DEAL

One of the largest real estate transfers ever effected in this city and surely the most comprehensive of recent years, with the exception of the sale of the Bigelow-Hartford holdings, was instituted yesterday when agreements were signed by Max L. Katze of this city and his brother, Samuel M. Katze of Lawrence to purchase the Sirk property in Bridge, French, Brookings and Amory streets embracing a four-story building which covers the entire square above outlined and which has an assessed valuation of $132,450.

The property is now occupied on the ground floor by the wholesale department of the D. L. Page Co., and it other retail and wholesale firms, engaged in a wide variety of businesses. The three upper floors are used as lodging houses, totalling 27 apartments and upwards of 100 rooms.

The purchasers have only tentative plans at present for the development of the property, but it is believed that some of it, now unoccupied, will be torn down to make room for a garage and storage plant of unusual size.

This transfer is but one of several which have occurred downtown during the past few weeks, although it is far greater in scope than any of the others.
The real estate and of the sale was handled jointly by George Greenberg and Charles M. Potter.

Return of Strikers and Improved
Service Reported From All Sections of the Country*Conflicting Reports From New York—Some Announce Strikers Flocking Back—Crumbling of Strikes in Central and Far West Follows Arrest of Strike Leaders in Chicago—Situation in New England
Greatly Improved—Cuts in R. R. Passenger Schedules and General Industrial Shutdown Averted

Return of strikers and improved service were reported today by railroads in various sections of the country, as the newly appointed railroad labor board assembled in Washington for its first session to consider wage demands of rail workers.

In the New York district, where volunteer crews continued to man trains in increasing numbers, there were conflicting reports concerning the number of men who had returned after the railroads, last night, had delivered an ultimatum that their last chance would expire tomorrow noon. Some roads announced that strikers were flocking back, but others reported sporadic walkouts.

Some brotherhood officials expressed fear that the men might regard the ultimatum as a challenge and prolong their walkout. Efforts at conciliation in Jersey City this morning were without result.

Crumbling of strikes in the central and far west was indicated following the action of the government in arresting 25 strike leaders in Chicago. Improvement in service also was reported in the middle west, one of the sections hardest hit. Almost normal operation was reported by many roads leading into Pittsburgh.

With passenger service generally improved throughout the country, increased freight shipments were reported in the New York and New England districts. New England points reported arrival of more freight, including coal, than any day since the strike spread to the east. Proposed drastic cuts in railroad passenger schedules and a general industrial shutdown were believed to have been averted.

Not Like His Cousin the "Fool of the Farmer Fold"

If you have the wind of a bellow and the health of a bear, you might become a hunter of "Big Horn Sheep," the lord of the Rocky Mountain tall peaks, but in addition to being hardy, you'd have to learn a lot.

Big Horn should be called something else than "sheep." He has none of the characteristics of the tame, timid, natural born tool of the farmer's fold. Big Horn is brave, self-reliant and often shows human intelligence. He sticks mostly to the tallest mountain tops until snow, frost and zero lock up the last scrap of food on the peaks.

There are still a good many Big Horns. They range from the American Rockies clear up into the Canadian Rockies. They withstand fiercest heat and fiercest cold. Big Horn will stand as high as 3 feet 8 inches at the shoulders and weigh as much as 150 pounds, but rarely. Their horns may be as much as 15 to 16 inches around and 20 to 22 inches in length.

These mountain sheep ordinarily move in bands of 10 to 25 but the older and most rams often travel alone in their glory. In May the ewes are in solitude in the most inaccessible places, where the lambs are born. They quickly learn to run with mother, but when she is away they crouch motionless so as not to attract birds and hosts of prey. Their coloration helps and you might step over one without knowing it was there.

In the fall the rams have a terrific battle. Their horns rub and only the most sturdy skulls save them from shattered heads. But their horns do not interfere as with deer.

Big Horn is always on guard for danger. You will never see a hand grazing but that one has head up, his keen eyes surveying the wide horizon and his wonderful nose smelling the air currents for the enemy. They are restless travellers and in a summer may cross whole states. Big Horn is the greatest climber in the world, out-rivalling the noted chamois and ibex.

WHERE THE WILLOW WORKERS WEAVE

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

LIVERPOOL, N. Y., April 16.—This is a town built on a stalk of willow. And, this summer, when you settle back in that comfortable creaking porch chair—give a vote of thanks to the townfolk of Liverpool. For there is the center of the world's willow industry. As folk in the American home demand more and more of the willow ware—chairs, tables, floor lamps, baskets, ferns, bird cages, and a hundred other things—the people in that little one-industry village work their fingers that much harder to keep up with the increasing popularity of their handiwork.

Seventy-five per cent of the willow that is grown in America comes from Wayne and Oneida counties in New York state. And Liverpool is right in the center of the great fields.

Practically every home in the town has its own willow factory. And practically every member of the family has a share to do in the business. The younger generation plant and cut branches bud. There are cut, stripped and dried over night, then packed away in great burlap and sheds. When needed, they are soaked for eight hours. This puts waxy life into the stems and they are ready for weaving.

Several factories have sprung up in Liverpool in recent years which cater to the making of larger pieces, such as daybeds, dining room tables, large chairs and beds. The best article to be attempted in willow.

The homes of the willow workers are the last word in up-to-date-ness. Many are furnished complete in willow ware. And the answer is, "we make it ourselves."

COAL MEN HONOR HERBERT R. WHITE

The Lowell Coal Merchants' association gave a complimentary and testimonial dinner at the Richardson hotel last evening to Herbert R. White, for 24 years secretary of the association and who leaves the city soon after being identified with Lowell's coal business for many years. Through the president, E. A. Wilson, the association presented him a substantial purse of gold, while Mrs. White was remembered with a box of beautiful flowers.

The association adopted resolutions dealing with Mr. White's long period of service in the city and expressing deep regret at his departure. Mr. White gratefully responded to the resolutions and gifts to Mrs. White and himself.

LOWELL MOTORBOAT CLUB MEETING

The increased membership in the Lowell Motorboat club will necessitate the enlargement of its wharf on the Merrimack river to 10 feet wide and 125 feet long. The annual meeting last night was held in the Pawtucket boat house and the officers for the coming year were elected. The several reports of the various committees predicted a very lively season on the river. After the routine business of the club was transacted and the officers elected, luncheon was served and an informal good time was enjoyed. The officers elected were: James L. Walker, commodore; fifth term; J. W. H. Brooks, vice commodore; E. O. Page, recording secretary; R. G. Moore, secretary; W. B. Adams, treasurer; J. F. McElroy, L. J. Flye, and B. A. Brooks, board of directors; E. J. Rutledge, trustee for three years.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Twenty-eight new members were initiated and 47 applications for membership were received at the regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 618, Loyal Order of Moose, which was held last evening with Dictator Ernest P. Parsons in the chair. The following committee was appointed to find suitable quarters down town for club rooms: Brethren Goss, Devlin, Ellis, Barnard, St. Onge, Meany, Lanard and McKenna. Past Dictator David Hartnett officiated at the installation of the following officers: Trustee P. A. Grogan, O. G. J. H. Brady and I. G. Frank Goss. Routine business was transacted and plans were made for the annual anniversary concert to be held some time in May.

Betsy Ross Sisterhood

At a recent meeting of Betsy Ross Sisterhood, Dames of Malta, the following officers were installed: Katherine Gillinson, queen; Mathilda Colley, protector; Sylvia Smith, Ruth; Bertha Everett, Naomi; Mary Toye, keeper of archives; Esther Witham, burner; Jessie Buchanan, herald; Nellie Delong, deputy herald; Katherine Ashley, color bearers; Julia Colby, first intendant; May Anall, second messenger; Alke Worth, first guard; Maud Arnold, second guard; and Mary Toye, pianist.

PLEADS FOR MAN'S LIFE

N.E.A. Staff Special
OMAHA, April 16.—Allen Vincent Grammer and Alson B. Cole have been sentenced to death and the date of their execution fixed 13 times, and they are still alive.

Three times executioners have made trips half across the continent to Lincoln, Neb., to carry out the death sentence; and gone back without having done so.

Once, on Feb. 7, the reprieve came almost at the moment set for the men to die.

Grammer's nerves have given way under the strain, and he is in a state of collapse.

Cole takes the matter easily. He jokes prison officials about it and says the execution never will take place.

On Feb. 7 Cole was found asleep at the hour set for the march to the electric chair, and the warden had to wake him to tell him that he had been reprieved again.

Grammer lies on his bed, hardly speaking even to his wife, who has stood by him throughout the fight for his life.

Spurred by Family

Mrs. Grammer is the daughter of the woman her husband and Cole were convicted of murdering. Her brothers and sisters have all turned against her. Once she met her brother in the hall of the courthouse, he on his way to secure execution of her husband's sentence, she to beg the governor to spare his life. The brother turned his head away and did not speak.

Cole and Grammer were convicted in 1917 of the murder of Mrs. Lulu Vogt, whose body was found on a rural road near Palmer, Neb., July 5. Both men made confessions, and later repudiated them. Cole said Grammer promised him $500 to kill his mother-in-law.

Reasons for Reprieves

The fight for their lives has been made by two young Lincoln (Neb.) attorneys, John M. Priest and Sterling F. Mutz. Several of the reprieves have been to permit appeals and motions for new trials.

One was because there was no equipment on hand at the time to electrocute the men.

Another was because the executioner who had been engaged could not come.

Another was to test Grammer's sanity.

The last one was because the state could not secure the dismissal of the appeal before the St. Louis court of appeals before the date set.

SOLVING THE PROBLEM

Association Builds Houses for Car Shop Employees in North Billerica

Seven houses of seven rooms each with pantry and bath, steam heat and electric lights, are being erected in

The corporation was formed some four years ago and has a tract of 56 acres of land in the North Village to develop. Its aim is to supply homes for the employees of the Boston & Maine car shops in the village, and it is said its plans are meeting the general approval of the employees of the concern, for houses are disposed with as soon as finished.

C. H. Williams of Billerica is treasurer of the corporation and he stated yesterday that the corporation was organized for the benefit of the employees of the car shops, for with the opening of the huge plant hundreds of men have expressed a desire to make their homes in the village, but like Lowell, the number of empty flats or houses in the town is very limited. "We are erecting fine comfortable homes for the workmen," he said, "and are giving the purchasers ample time to pay for them. Each house we erect has seven rooms with hardwood floors, pantry and bath, steam and electricity, and with it goes 5,000 square feet of land, large enough for a fine little garden. So far we have housed about 300 people and we expect to more than double that number before a great while."

Building New Church
Work on the new St. Andrew's church in North Billerica is going right along, but it is not expected the new building will be ready for services until the latter part of the summer or early fall. The new church is being erected on land adjoining the rectory in Talbot avenue.

It was stated yesterday that the parish has an option on a fine piece of land in the Centre village, near the town hall, and as soon as the North Billerica church is completed another church will be erected in the Centre.

The various church societies of the North village are deeply interested in the building project and are all lending a hand in the raising of funds for the new edifice. The last to come to the front is the Father Mathew Temperance society, which has made arrangements for the holding of a May party some time next month for the benefit of the new church. The affair will be held in the quarters of the society and the program will be an elaborate one. It will include an entertainment in the society hall. Dancing will be held on the lawn adjoining the building. The committee in charge of the event consists of the following: Frank Mullen, chairman; Carl Delahanty, James Condon, John R. Higgins, R. Higgins, F. J. McNulty, Chas. Continued to Page 6

Presented a Flag

A delightful gathering took place recently in the town hall in the Centre village when the Ladies' auxiliary to the G.A.R. entertained the members of Billerica Post 116, American Legion. In the course of the evening an enjoyable entertainment program was given and luncheon was served, but the feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome American flag to the post by the ladies. The gift was accepted by Joseph Kearney in behalf of the post.

World War Memorial

Where will the world war memorial be erected? is the prevailing question in Billerica. It will be remembered that at the last annual town meeting a committee consisting of representatives of the town and the American Legion was appointed to select a site for the erection of a memorial building, this committee to report at a special town meeting to be held in the course of the year. This committee is composed of the following: Selectman Sheridan, Postmaster King of the Centre village and Mr. Lyons, representing the town, and Joseph Kearney, Joseph O'Brien, Edmund Quinn, William Lyons and Warren Manning, representing the legion. This committee has been very active of late in looking over sites, and, although they have not made an official report, it is understood that the majority will report favorably on a tract of land in the North village, a short distance from the school. It is expected there will be a red hot contest at the special meeting, for the residents of the Centre village will do their utmost to have the memorial erected in their part of the town, while the residents of the North feel the building should be in their section and they will leave no stone unturned to win their point.

Sunday Baseball

The residents of the town are anxiously waiting for the call of a special meeting, for while the meeting will be for the purpose of receiving reports from the memorial site committee, it is expected that the matter of Sunday baseball will also be thrashed out. The North, so it is stated, is unanimously in favor of Sunday sports, but the Centre is bitterly opposed to it, and on this opinion there surely will be something doing. The legion has not as yet taken any action on this question, but it is expected the matter will be thrashed out at one of its meetings before the special town meeting is called.

Baseball Professionals

North Billerica is boasting of having in its midst at least two baseball professionals. They are Pete Condon, who last year played with the Lynn team in the New England league, and Henry Sullivan, who spent last season with the Lowell team of the New England league. These two young men will leave shortly to resume their "work." Mr. Condon will leave Monday for New Haven as he has been signed up again as pitcher for the New Haven team, while Mr. Sullivan, who has received several liberal offers, has not yet made up his mind as to which he will accept. He has received a call to the Richmond team of the Virginia league and one to the New Haven team of the Eastern league, as well as others, but he is still at sea as to what to do. His position is catcher.

MADE HARE LIVING

CHICAGO—Jimmy Hanton, 22-year-old Italian boxer, has had as many hard fights as Nat Nelson for a similar length of activity—and yet he has means but a bare living wage. He has hooked up with Emil Thery and they claim to have a plan by which Jimmy can win quickly, work easier and win money.

WILLIE GROWS RICH

NEW YORK—Boxing is a grand old game. The good ones somehow manage to make out a fairly luxurious existence. William Jackson, crack lightweight, cashed in on 11 bouts in the last three months for the snug sum of $12,915.

Delegation of Congressmen
Urge Fair Treatment for
Irish Prisoners

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Diplomatic representations to Great Britain that Irish political prisoners should be given judicial trial or released are directed to be made to the state department by congress in a resolution introduced today by Representative Peter F. Tague of Massachusetts. After introducing the resolution Representative Tague, accompanied by a delegation, called upon the new secretary of state, Bainbridge Colby at the state department.

The Tague resolution, which was referred to the house committee on foreign affairs, of which Rep. John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts is the ranking republican, is as follows:

Whereas, a considerable number of citizens of Ireland have been subjected to arrest and confinement in prison institutions without being arraigned or placed on trial for any specific offense;

and Whereas, the arrests of the aforesaid citizens of Ireland are based on allegations of committing acts of a political nature, directly or indirectly connected with a purpose to establish freedom and independence as a nation by the people of Ireland; and

Whereas, it is an accepted principle of the law of nations that persons arrested as political offenders shall not be subject to the methods of confinement and treatment accorded those arrested for felonies; and

Whereas, it is disclosed to the world that the lives of the persons arrested as aforesaid are being endangered by reason of the failure of officials representing the government of Great Britain to arraign the imprisoned persons on any charges, grant them trial, or otherwise definitely accord judicial determination of the causes of arrest and continued imprisonment; and

Whereas, the aforesaid arrested persons are as of inalienable right entitled to arraignment and trial, and pending arraignment and trial to be accorded that treatment which the principles of the law of nations accord to those arrested for political crimes, as distinguished from felonies. Therefore, be it

Resolved: That the house of representatives does hereby request the secretary of state, with the approval of the president, to cause representations to be made to the government of Great Britain that the aforesaid prisoners should immediately be arraigned, placed on trial and their cases definitely disposed of by judicial process of law, or given liberty; and if to be further held with stated purpose to accord them trial they be not further subjected to those recognized by the law of nations to be applicable to acts of a political nature.

Finding Missing Persons Is A Never Ending Task

It is the bureau of missing persons, which sends out daily alarms to all sections in its efforts to find those who have disappeared.

In the United States over 1800 inquiries for missing persons come into the Salvation Army each year and, in spite of the meagreness of the available information, in spite of the fact that a large proportion of those who are missing do not want to be found, in spite of all the obstacles and hindrances, over 1000 are located by the Salvation Army each year.

There is the child who runs away from home because the terrors of cold and hunger are nothing to him compared to the fear of school and teacher. There is the man who finds it easier to desert than to support the family that he thinks is too exacting. There is the woman who feels that the river or the open gas jet is less terrifying than the hardships of life. For all these and many others the Salvation Army is conducting a vigilant, unceasing search.

And the methods used in finding the delinquents are as varied as the causes of their disappearance. Sometimes an overlooked clue, an old letter or the address of a friend lead to the end of the search. Sometimes a paragraph inserted in the War Cry—the Salvation Army publication which is circulated in every country in the world—or in other mediums to catch the eye, will bring the missing one home. Sometimes the man or woman hunt goes on for years, only in the end to become one of those unsolved mysteries that the world speculates upon a month or two and then promptly forgets.

THE RING THAT SHATTERED FRIENDSHIP

NEW YORK, April 13.—Here's a nine-carat diamond ring that broke the friendship of two women. It's valued at $7500. Mrs. Clare L. Turek says it vanished while her friend, Mrs. Florence Levinson, was visiting her. The ring later made its appearance in a jewelry shop and was returned to the owner through a firm of lawyers whose client had paid $1500 deposit on the ring. Mrs. Turek had offered $2500 reward.

WORKERS O. K. IN TOWN OF OKAY

N.E.A. Staff Special.
MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 16.—A modern five-room cottage for $25 a month, with heat, light, water and telephone free.

Okay, a model village founded on three years of experimentation, is being erected near the O. K. Manufacturing company's plant as a suburb of Muskogee. The company bought the land, divided it into town lots and is now working on nearly 100 modern cottages. About 20 have been completed. No two are alike, and there are lawns and attractive back yards.

The cottages are being occupied as fast as they are finished.

Employees who want to own their own homes are offered a free lot and liberal credit with which to build. A company bank has been organized primarily to handle loans.

As soon as the model village was formed an election was held and 425,000 lands voted for a school house.

Further improvements of the model village are intended later.

"It's just good business," says C. E. Harris, president of the company. "We want the factory to grow and this is the best way I know to make it a success. Fair play is our aim."

Aged People Suffer

And Weaken Their Vitality by Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Other Irregularities.

Sulphur Tablets, a Mild, Efficient Formula, Gains Wide Popularity in Recent Years.

A "young" woman, seventy-seven years old, writes: "I am taking Sulphur Tablets, and I think they are a splendid remedy for constipation. I am seventy-seven years old and have tried many remedies but have found none as effective as this. I am recommending them to all my friends suffering from the effects of constipation. They are not only laxative, but a fine tonic also. I feel much better and stronger since I began to take them. Sincerely and gratefully yours."

(Mrs.) Ellen A. Hennick, Cambridge, Mass.

Sulphur Tablets (not sulphur tablets) are composed of sulphur, cream of tartar and the fine extracts of roots and herbs, and are surely suited for children or adults to overcome the ills that follow a dormant liver, constipated bowels and inactive kidneys. Headaches, backaches, dizzy spells, pimples, rash, boils, nervousness, all follow the train of irregular elimination of impurities. A week's treatment will please and gratify the most skeptical. HOW "SHOT FIRERS" FLIRT WITH DEATH

BY MABEL ABBOTT

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURG, Kan., April 16.—The average life of a "shot firer" in the Kansas coal mines is eight months. Alexander McAllister of Rigo, Kan., has been shot firer for 20 years. McAllister was a witness before the Kansas industrial court in its investigation into mine, wage and living conditions. He is 55 years old, has a wife and 10 children. A shot firer is the man who, when the miners have prepared the charges of powder or dynamite to shatter the coal for next day's work and have left the mine, goes down and lights the fuses.

The mines of this district employ about 150 shot firers. Fifteen were killed in 1915; 16 have been killed since 1916. There were three deaths in one month this year.

When McAllister goes down into the mines he carries a sharp knife and a little lamp with a naked flame. The passages are so low that a man must bend double, in many places only 36 inches high. In the dense blackness he finds the first shot, perhaps five pounds of blasting powder or 20 sticks of dynamite rammed into a hole in the coal with a couple of feet of fuse hanging out.

With one motion he splits the end of the fuse so it will catch fire quickly and touches the flame of the lamp to it. Then he runs for his life, doubled up in the low black tunnel he hobbles along like a dog with a hurt paw, going on both feet, one hand, the other hand holding knife and lamp.

The next shot is 26 feet away. He slashes the fuse, touches it to the lamp and gallops on. Every 36 feet there is another. The fuses burn fast. The roar of the first shot reaches him before he has fired the 10th.

Crimped in his 36-inch burrow, he must keep 200 feet ahead of the bombardment that is chasing him. Death is at his heels.

McAllister and two assistants fire two shots in one hour and twenty minutes, when they come out they drip with sweat as if they had been in a shower bath.

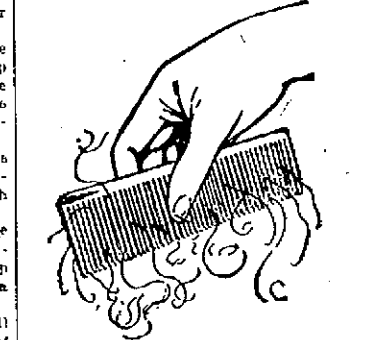

McAllister has become known all over Kansas for his understanding of mine conditions. He is sent for to go down into "outlaw" mines, where no one else dares to go, and to rescue trapped or injured men from places where no one else can live. He has carried nine dead shot firers out in his arms, but still he goes back. The work pays well and he is proud of his ability to prevent accidents. Even his wife says she is not anxious about him any more.

"If you live, you know how to fire shots," he says. But no insurance company will insure Alexander McAllister.

OUR ANNUAL SALE OF

Tires at $1 and Tubes at $1

Has Set a Whirlwind Pace and a New Record

This timely and most welcome sale which is of equal interest to owners of pleasure cars and commercial vehicles, began with a fine burst of speed and it has not let up even for a moment since the opening hours of the event.

IT'S SUCCESS WAS A CERTAINTY

Our regular customers who know all about the sale from past experience, purchased and are still purchasing tires and tubes in great quantities, and we are immensely pleased with the smiling new faces which are in evidence daily, for this proves that the good news of this sale has spread.

Pre-eminent as a merchandising event!—A distribution of Tires and Tubes is a money saving occasion without an equal in the history of the Rubber Industry. Double sensational is this sale because of the present high prices for rubber, fabric and labor, all of which means that another increase in the present prices of Tires and Tubes is a foregone conclusion, and that the increase must become effective in the near future.

WE DEFY COMPETITION. Oh yes, we can prove it. We invite inspection. We don't ask you to buy a "pig in a bag"—Come yourself and be convinced.

3. In the most essential point today—Price.

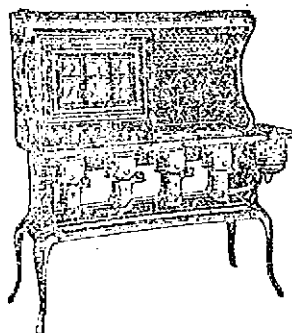

WE ANTICIPATED YOUR WANTS

1. By buying early.
2. By getting quantity and price. Therefore we can undersell all others and deliver a better article.

Have You Seen Our Demonstration?

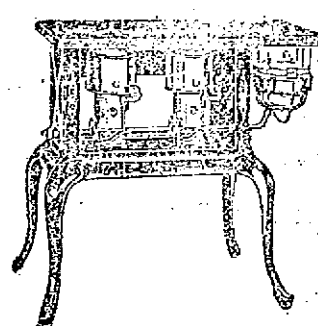

We placed one of these stoves in our window and lighted it, then suspended from the ceiling, by wire, a kettle full of water ten inches from the top of the stove and kept it boiling continually. Most people concluded it was boiled by electricity, no flame being discernible.

WHERE IS THE SECRET? Right here—Our stove is not made to consume oil. It is not manufactured by large oil interests. It is made to economize in oil. The oil is generated into gas which, in turn, gives intense heat at a small cost. Yes, a small cost. A continual flame for twenty-two hours on one gallon of oil.

Can You Equal It? Prices:

TURKS AND ARMENIANS IN BIG BATTLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 15—(By Associated Press)—Disconcerting messages have been received here from the Aintab area, in northern Syria, indicating that the Turks and Armenians are engaged in heavy fighting there, the Armenians occupying the American mission buildings. This news has aroused uneasiness regarding the position of the 13 American relief workers at Aintab.

Situation Grave

NEW YORK, April 16—Near East relief officials received a cable message from Constantinople today saying that the situation in Aintab was grave, but that a relief force was reported en route.

WILL GO TO JAIL RATHER THAN GIVE BAIL

CHICAGO, April 16—John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardmen's Association and H. E. Heading, president of the United Engineers' Association, the two "outlaw" railway unions, announced today that they would go to jail on the government charge of conspiracy to violate the Lever act.

The two, with 22 of their followers, were arrested yesterday by federal agents and released on their own recognizance until 2 o'clock this afternoon, to give them a chance to obtain the $10,000 bond set by Commissioner Mason.

Department of Justice agents were hunting today for five men who escaped the dragnet spread over union meetings yesterday. One of the five is Bennett Dolan, a "four minute" speaker during the war and brother of a former municipal judge.

Medieval Ceremony Graced by Gown of Simple Lines and Elaborate Head-dress

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, April 16.—"What is the most beautiful bridal costume of the age?"

That is the question raised by the "Bride of the Centuries" feature, considered one of the most artistic parts of John Murray Anderson's revue, "What's in a Name?"

The bridal costumes of every age have been reproduced, with infinite care to make each detail correct.

Historic records of fashions in the 12th century, with Italy in the lead, tell of long, straight-fitting gowns, with correspondingly long, tight-fitting sleeves. If the lady were wealthy, she chose silks, or velvet brocade, often adorned with bands of gold or silver embroidery. But were she of a lower class in society, laws prohibited her from wearing such materials as silk and velvet. Almost always a cap, or ornate head-dress of some description completed the costume. The unique head covering of Miss Compton emphasizes this fashion.

Nor were the fair ladies of the middle ages behind the present modes in the use of rouge, and false and dyed hair. Many jewels, too, were the de-creto of fashion.

The remainder of the evening as guests of the theatre management.

There is never any great amount of formality attached to these annual banquets and "set" speeches are absolutely barred. From 6.30 until 7.40 o'clock the boys gave every bit of their attention to a broiled chicken dinner that tasted as good as it looked. Sultana roll with "kickless" sauce topped off the menu in fine style.

James P. Conway, faculty manager of athletics, served as a sort of master of ceremonies and asked Mayor Thompson to say a word or two. The latter spoke for a few moments on the possibilities of an athletic field

For the school on the First street oval, should that land be acquired by the city and the part the alumni of the school might be asked to play in its development. He felt that if the alumni provided the interest and funds necessary for the erection of a modern athletic plant there, athletics in the school would be only in its infancy.

Principal Harris and Chalkman Deane spoke briefly and the dinner came to a close in ample time to allow the boys to get to the theatre before the curtain went up for the first act.

BRINKLEY GIRLS' ANNUAL DANCE

Attended by a large crowd of Lowell's young people, the annual dance staged in Lincoln hall by the Brinkley Girls last evening proved one of the most successful events of the season. The decorations were handsome and appropriate, the music excellent and the program one of real enjoyment throughout. The committee in charge were: Miss Lincoln, general manager; Agnes Gillick, assistant; Alice Borden, floor director; Ella Cooney, assistant; Laura Rivers, treasurer and Anna Gardner, chief aid.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Spring Festival week, at B. F. Keith's Theatre, carries with it a bill of good balance with comedy, music and dancing about equally featured. Smith & Austin, in their amazing travesty, "All Fun," are the confiners, but running a close second is Harry Green, the unbelievable comedian, with his luggage filled with limbericks and other verses. Vinnie Daly, singer and dancer, will appeal to many because of her wonderful swan, the comedy, "The Greatest Man in the World," by Edward R. Ross, is played by Jack Macfadyen and Marion A. Day, and it is a rattling good piece of work. There are many other good things about the bill, including Pernane & Shelley, Dancing McDonnads and Turner & Grace.

THE OWL THEATRE
Yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre were well represented. Capacity audience were the rule. A big time bill of vaudeville, three big acts. The first, "Scott & Christy," the "Dixie Boy" and the "Yankee Girl," certainly do not let over. If you want to enjoy a good laugh, don't fail to see "Tobin," the clever juggler. In the second big act, "Alexander & Murray," the humorous Harmony Hubbs. The features are of almost interest. "Hawkins & Wives," featuring Vivian Martha, and "Gable in Souls," with Dorothy Dalton as the star. A brand new weekly and the second episode of

THE STRAND
A good, hearty laugh is dug the patrons of The Strand when they witness Taylor Holmes in "The Very Idea." This is an unusually clever comedy and the star is seen in one of his best parts. There are ballets concerned, and lots of excruciatingly amusing scenes and situations. Then there is George Walsh in "A Manhattan Knight," one of the liveliest picture stories. It has all of the pep and vigor of Walsh presentation.

entations. The showing of the Weekly includes another series of views taken from the German raider Moewe.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Wallace Reid proves that he is a speed demon as well as an entertaining comedy star in his new picture, "Excuse My Dust," being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow. "Excuse My Dust" was adapted from Byron Morgan's popular magazine story, "The Bear Train." Ann Little is the leading woman, and Tully Marshall and Theodore Roberts are also in the cast. The other feature of the current program is a Maurice Tourneur production, "My Lady's Garter," an exceptionally entertaining mystery story. A Burton Holmes travel picture, the International News and a comedy round out the bill.

OPERA HOUSE
Playgoers who favor highly dramatic stage endeavor, artistically and cleverly portrayed, should not miss the presentation of Paul Armstrong's latest stage creation, "Escaped," by the popular Lowell Players at the Opera House this week. It's by far the strongest and best play of its kind of the season. Miss Fields is exceptionally good in her portrayal of the young girl, and Hooper L. Atchley finds greater opportunity to reflect his dramatic talent than ever before. The others of the cast are praiseworthy. It's a play of the worth-while sort.

HE PREFERRED JAKKY TO SWEET MELODY

William Hughes, convicted yesterday of stealing a phonograph, said that "Jakky" was the cause of it all when his case was called for disposition in the municipal court this morning.

William, it will be recalled, was found guilty of stealing the music box from the proprietor of the lodging house where he lived—and the case was continued until today to see if in the meantime he wouldn't give the police a clue to the present whereabouts of the machine.

This morning there first appeared a Mr. Ansara, who told the court that on the night of the theft he met William a short distance from the latter's abode, and that William wanted to sell him the phonograph. He was suspicious that things were not altogether as they should be, he said, and refused to purchase it.

At first William wanted $75 for it, he said. Then he remarked that he'd let it go at $50. Finally he said that "a favor he'd sell it dirt cheap—for $25."

Mr. Ansara wouldn't buy it, however, and after learning from William where the phonograph might be, inspected by prospective purchasers, informed the police, who recovered it.

"What have you to say about this now?" queried Judge Pickman, turning to William, who yesterday had insistently denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of the missing melody maker, declaring that it had been stolen from his room while he was wrapped in slumber.

"It's the truth, Judge," replied William. "Yes; it sure is the truth. I took the phonograph, but it wouldn't have happened if I hadn't been drinking 'jakky.' 'Drink always was my downfall, Your Honor.'"

William, who said that he had until recently been employed as a bell hop in a hotel in Providence, R. I., then pleaded long and earnestly for a chance to walk the straight and narrow path in future.

With the understanding that he would return to the Rhode Island city, a suspended sentence to the house of correction was prescribed.

And he promised he'd never, never drink any more "jakky" again.

Defendant Televised

Charged with being a fugitive from justice, Tommislakos Tralykas, arrested a few days ago on a warrant issued by the Pennsylvania police, alleging larceny in Philadelphia, was discharged when his case was called on continuance today. Deputy Downey told the court that although immediately after the arrest he had communicated with the Philadelphia police, no further information had been received from them in connection with the matter and he, therefore, recommended that the defendant be released.

Dies of Wounds

of the company. Parmenter underwent an operation last night and a bullet was removed from his abdomen. Alessandro Barandelli, a guard, was killed instantly. The police today were searching in several states for the robbers.

Plans of the robbers evidently were well matured. Two of the band attacked Barandelli and Parmenter as they were carrying the money from the company's office to its shoe factory, across a railroad crossing. Two others kept nearby laborers under cover of pistols and fired into factory windows to drive back employees. A fifth member of the party drove the automobile in which the robbers escaped. A fusillade of shots greeted the tender of the railroad crossing when he tried to drop the crossing gates in the path of the escaping men. Pursuit parties in automobiles lost the trail at Abington. The bandits dropped tracks from their machine as they fled, hoping to check pursuers. The leader of the band was said to be a young foreigner about 20 years of age.

ence on the present strike of railroad men. Many of those who walked out already have returned to work with the understanding that their demands would receive prompt attention.

At the railroad administration it was said that the demands of the strikers would not be given preference over those of the other rail employees; that the wage question would be considered as a whole.

Ex-Mayor Hunt Chairman

The board perfected a temporary organization by electing Henry Hunt, former mayor of Cincinnati, as chairman, and G. Wallace W. Hanger of this city, as secretary. Both are members of the public group.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The wage dispute as it stood with the breaking up of the bi-partisan conference here two weeks ago, was submitted to the board, Mr. Hanger announced, and the board will begin consideration of it at once.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT IN N. E. SITUATION

BOSTON, April 16.—The arrival of more freight, including coal, than had come into New England on any day since the strike of railroad employees spread to the east, created marked improvement today in the regional transportation and industrial situation. Drastic cuts in railroad passenger schedules and a general industrial shutdown were believed to have been averted.

The N.Y.N.H. & H.R.R. announced that the predicted curtailment in passenger traffic on its lines would not be made for several days and that it might be averted entirely. The Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine roads also announced that further cuts in service were unlikely at present. Express service on all lines was improved today and local freight movements continued at slightly below normal.

Fuel Shortage Serious

Railroad officials said the fuel shortage was serious, however, and as a conservation measure fires were drawn in all engines not in use. A few industrial establishments were closed through lack of coal and raw materials, but a gradual lifting of embargoes and lessening of congestion at New England gateways led to the belief that relief would be speedily forthcoming.

Strike Propaganda Circulated

Organized efforts to swing New

England railroad men into the ranks of the strikers outside the section were continued today. Agitators who here from New York, circulated strike propaganda and made preparations for a meeting on Sunday under the auspices of the American Federation of Railroad Workers. Railroad officials reported that employees within the region continued to refuse to quit work.

Students to Replace Strikers

Marine clerks employed by the New England Steamship Co., a subsidiary of the New Haven railroad, were on strike today at Fall River, New Bedford, Providence and in three Connecticut coast cities. New Haven officials accepted the offer of students at Massachusetts Institute of Technology to replace the strikers and declared that freight would be kept moving by water.

WORKING ON MULTIPLEX TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Work has started on the installation of telephone equipment which will give New England the second multiplex telephone system in the world directed over ordinary telephone wires.

When completed about July 1, this multiplex telephone system will connect Boston and Bangor, Me. Without constructing any additional circuits the special equipment will provide the equivalent of four additional lines. It will make possible five conversations between ten people over a single circuit at one time.

For example, one telephone subscriber in Worcester, one in New Bedford, one in Lowell, one in Waltham and one in East Boston, can talk simultaneously over one Boston to Bangor circuit with five other subscribers in Bangor, Millinocket, Bar Harbor, Calais and St. John, N. B.

It will also be possible to use this multiplex system in such a way that the equivalent of 20 telegraph circuits may be established on one telephone circuit, although the system will not be utilized for telegraph purposes at present.

Special terminal apparatus will be installed in the central offices at Wakefield, Mass., and at Bangor, and special intermediate apparatus will be placed in the Portland central office for the purpose of giving additional strength to the electrical waves.

This multiplex system is the last word in telephone toll transmission. At the present time it is only economical for long lines. While it can be used for distances less than 250 miles, the cost makes it prohibitive for general use.

The installation of the system will assist in giving a prompter service with a high grade of transmission to Eastern Maine and the maritime provinces without adding to the cable or wire facilities between Boston and Bangor.

Telephone officials say it is almost impossible to obtain proper supplies of telephone cable and pole line equipment, and this multiplex system is one result of the inventive genius and resourcefulness of telephone engineers in meeting the present restricted condition of the supply market.

The system was invented and developed by the scientific staff of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and was first used several months ago between Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

BOOM-AH-BOOM!

And the Fierce Prairie Hen Battle is on

He's not a college man at all and lays no claim to it. But come across him in the spring and he'll give you enough "boom-ah-booms" to drive your admiration. He is the "prairie hen," they call the whole tribe "hen," male and female.

His species once vied with the passenger pigeon for numbers and he boom-ah-boomed from eastern Texas northward far into Canada. But the butcher business got him. Chapman says that in the seventies you could buy prairie hen at $1.50 a dozen all over the west. Later, as the farmers filled up the frontier, he was favorite food for the table. Today, you find him fairly plentiful only in Nebraska, although he is known in the Klamath lake region of Oregon.

The prairie hen is a gorgeous bird when in a scrappy mood in the spring. Bright and early in the morning a flock of cocks gather at a spot in the prairie for fighting purposes. They stand about 25 feet apart. Mr. Cock begins a dance, his feet hitting the

Then comes the great event—an orange-colored sack at the side of his neck begins to glow as he inflates it. It finally becomes a great round yellow ball and then he deflates it with his wondrous—

His orange deflated, Mr. Cock springs into the air. Then with head drawn in, orange eyebrow bulging, tail outspread, horse-collar vibrating, he makes for his nearest neighbor by short runs and starts to clean up the prairie with him.

THE COST OF LABOR WILL HIT CROPS

N.E.A. Staff Special

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The result of increases in the wages of farm labor will be a serious curtailment in the output of food and feed crops, according to William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry.

"Farmers must pay from 100 per cent. to 400 per cent. more for labor. The small-farm area of the Atlantic slope and the Great Lakes region will be hardest hit. In the prairie country, various machinery cuts down the manpower requirements.

"Market gardeners will be pinched especially. Corn acreage will be cut, wheat somewhat less and oats least of all. There will be a large acreage of grasses. The cotton planters will have time, perhaps, to adjust themselves. Potatoes require almost as much manpower as cotton. The outlook for potato production is uncertain.

Pale, Weak and Nervous

I was very nervous, pale, and so weak that I could not even digest my food right. The physician who was attending me had definitely told me that he did not expect to be able to cure me, but simply to give me relief. My case was called: "Nervous indigestion." Just one of my relatives still had confidence, for she was a fervent believer in RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and finally persuaded me to give them a trial. I took them regularly and was pleased to notice a decided improvement after a few months of treatment. At the end of a year, my different ailments had gradually disappeared and I began to take on flesh. As my household duties are rather trying at times, I have resolved that I will take a couple of boxes of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women from time to time, just to keep my strength up.

RED PILLS, Her Friend for Fifteen Years

It is now fifteen years, since I first became acquainted with RED PILLS, and I may safely say that they have been my salvation during that time. I was the mother of fifteen children, so that my daily duties were indeed very strenuous and at times trying. I was tired and feeling ill at ease. RED PILLS proved themselves once again, they helped me to regain my strength, saved me from any serious sickness and made me fit to attend properly to my various household duties.

RED PILLS, the Best Tonic

Being the mother of seven children, and having to attend to all the household duties, besides looking after my children, I naturally gave way and became weakened, and suffered severely from indigestion. Having so often read of the various cures effected by the use of RED PILLS, I decided to give them a trial, and after taking them for three months, I was delighted to notice that I was getting stronger and that my health was improving in many ways. Since that time I have firmly made up my mind that I will always take RED PILLS whenever I feel the need of a good tonic to build me up.—Mrs. J. BERUBE,

HONOR TO SERVICE MEN

Y.M.C.I. Holds Annual Banquet and Testimonial in Memorial Hall

If the Young Men's Catholic Institute of Belvidere stages no more social functions for a decade to come, its members and friends who were present at the 20th annual banquet and testimonial to service men held last evening in Memorial hall, will have available sufficient pleasant and inspiring memories to thrill them for a life-time. For certainly last evening's affair was profuse with those elements that make for permanent and happy recollections.

The honoring of 102 living veterans of the world war and tribute to the one member who made the supreme sacrifice, Capt. Paul Kittredge, oratory from the lips of those well gifted in that art, music, dinner and the happy companionship of relatives and friends made the occasion notable in Y.M.C.I. circles and indeed in the annals of the city itself. There will be fewer pages brighter in the institute's history than that written last evening.

Judge Michael F. Kennedy of Natick was the principal speaker of the evening and rarely has Memorial hall resounded with more stirring remarks, more eloquent tribute to patriots and more laudatory tributes to the part played by women in the world war. Gifted with force and a fine discrimination in the handling of English, Judge Kennedy poured inspirational to every man and woman in the hall.

Rev. William J. Farrell of New Britain, chaplain of the 26th division and winner of the Croix de Guerre, was another speaker who touched deeply the hearts of his listeners. His stories of the battlefield, humorous at times but more often touched by the great seriousness of war, found a ready response not alone among the men who had served in the war but all others appreciative of the love of fighting men for those who were with them as chaplains in their hours of need.

Other speakers included Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., of the Immaculate Conception church. He spoke on "The Church" in place of Rev. Lawrence J. Tighe, O.M.I., spiritual director of the institute, who was unable to be present.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson spoke on "Our City" and Thomas M. Higgins on "Our Service Men."

The toastmaster of the evening was Frank P. McCarlin who not only filled that office most wittily and gracefully but also gave a most informative address on "Our Society."

Thomas E. Clark, president of the organization, made the address of welcome. Seated at the head table besides the speakers were Mrs. Thompson, wife of the mayor; Mrs. Frank P. McCarlin, members of the clergy and others.

Nearly 500 men and women sat down shortly after 8 o'clock to an excellent turkey dinner served by Lydon, the caterer. Orchestra music gave an added touch of life to the scene and dainty decorations on the tables provided an atmosphere of warmth and cordiality. When an hour had passed President Clark called to order and without extended remarks introduced Toastmaster McCarlin.

Mr. McCarlin reviewed the early days of the Y.M.C.I., going back 40 years to the time it was founded by Rev. William Joyce, O.M.I. Many charter members are still active workers in the institute, he said.

"There is a spirit about our organization," the speaker continued, "not found in all others. It is built on the firmest of foundations, the church. The Y.M.C.I. has always been a great influence in the life of our city and in the various activities in which it has been engaged. It has always been a leader. Our building in Belvidere is one of the finest anywhere when one considers the small fees paid by our members. We offer material and spiritual advantages rarely found in any society."

The toastmaster then explained that the occasion was primarily a banquet to the returned service men of the institute but also the 20th anniversary of the society's birth.

Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., was the first speaker introduced by the toastmaster. In opening, he paid a tribute to President Clark, "a grandson of a Civil war veteran and one of my dear old Cadet captains."

After expressing the regrets of Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., who had been called out of the city, Rev. Fr. Sullivan said: "The topic 'Our Church' is most comprehensive. It would be much easier to speak on some single aspect of the church. Many a moral earthquake has upset the world since the first pope, but never has there been such unrest as there is at the present time. The world looks, and looks rightly to the Catholic church for help and salvation. The church has never failed to answer the cry; the church has always been the strongest ally of the state in solving her difficulties."

"If there is any power on earth that can restrain the anti-social tendencies of man it is the church. Happily, the state seems to be coming to the conclusion that neither internal nor external peace is possible without religion. How can we expect social peace when our leaders gather 'round the peace table and not one of them men enough to invoke a divine blessing?"

"The church's idea of justice enhances the justice, the truth and the clarity of God. Those are the principles embodied in this society for which our young men fought and for which some of them laid down their lives. You men must see to it that real justice prevails, that Bolshevism is crushed. Remember, where the church is, there is peace. If you're true to the principles of your church, there is no doubt that our church, our state and our society will stand securely."

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was introduced as a "product of Belvidere," and received a cordial welcome. Following a few minutes of humorous digressions, the mayor dwelt on the advantages of such a society as the Y.M.C.I.

"The greatest thing you have," he said, "is your opportunity to mingle with your fellowmen under suitable conditions and learning of the good in each of them. I believe the world is coming to accept the principle that we should think of the other fellow first, should do something for our fellowman. Your organization gives you a great opportunity to practice that principle so that after you have crossed the stage of life it may be said of you that you did something to help your fellowmen."

The mayor then paid a fitting tribute to the service men and said that those who remained at home should not be forgotten. The Y.M.C.I. was one of the first organizations to give comforts to the soldiers and sailors, he pointed out, and some measure of tribute should be extended to those who made the comforts possible. He urged the members to heed well the words of their spiritual directors so that they the glory of their country, their state and their city.

Rev. William J. Farrell

Rev. William J. Farrell was the next speaker. As one of the 26th division chaplains he had had an opportunity to mingle with many Lowell boys in France and for that reason said that he did not feel entirely out of place in Lowell.

His address was a series of alternations between humorous and serious anecdotes of his experiences. He took exception to the statements that were circulated here at home by "fanatics or German sympathizers," to the effect that the American soldiers were victims of drunkenness and immorality.

"Boys who will kneel in the mud in the pouring rain as they did on one Christmas day to hear mass, who will give their all to their chaplain," he said, "are not likely to be bad boys."

There is only one word in the English language that I can use to express my sentiments for those boys—I love them.

"We tried to impress upon them that the chaplains were there just to help them, that we were not on a higher pedestal than themselves. The love and affection of the American soldier for his chaplain was one of the most touching phases of the war. After a whole attack the first sound that would come out of the darkness would be the voice of a soldier: 'Is the father all right?'

Rev. Fr. Farrell urged a continuation of the fraternal relations between priests and young men here at home.

Judge Michael F. Kennedy

Judge Michael F. Kennedy, principal speaker of the evening, had been assigned the topic, "Women's Part in the War," but he took occasion also to pay a tribute to the men who served in the great conflict.

The United States, he said, had been saved eternally by the loyal soldiers who served her in the world war. "The thanks of America tonight and forever must be paid you men," he continued.

"In years to come you will have the same great memories that the veterans of the Civil war have now when they come to this hall and look at the paintings here?"

"In the world war we saw France weakening under the strain. England had not started to help. Germany knew her chance had come to strike a blow at the heart of Paris. Onward they went to within 50 miles of Paris. You remember the flag Berthas? you remember that the enemy went on to within 40 miles of Paris. The destiny of the world lay in that city at the time. Aid was sought and America answered the call. We answered because we believed that the future of America and of the world was at stake. Catholic boys of Lowell and of the rest of the country, led by great Catholic leaders, answered the call and broke through the lines. Germany threw up her hands and cried: 'America, you have won the freedom of the

Can Clothes Be Too Good for a Boy?

We do not think so.
Boys' clothes are like a slice of bread!
Maybe it doesn't take him long to get away with a big slice—yet the bigger it is the longer it satisfies.
It's that way with clothes; the better they are, the more wear they give; the more wear they give, the longer they last; the longer they last, the less they cost.

BOYLE AND DE FOE DRAW BOTH KLOBY AND BRITT

After wrestling for three hours over the weight question, Thursday, Boyle and De Foe, both of Lowell, drew both Kloby and Britt in the first round of the fight at the Cuddy Brothers' Arena on West Street, Monday afternoon. The fight, which was the main attraction of the night, was a hurricane bout, and the two fighters were expected to see one of the most exciting fights in the history of the sport.

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR BY GROVE

The stories now emanating from Lawrence to the effect that Kloby will enter the ring on Patriots day at a distinct favorite over Frankie Britt, despite the fact that the latter gained at his expense in Boston a few weeks ago, gives us the full strength of our convictions as expressed yesterday when we shunted Frankie into the "sucker" class.

He's the Village Smithy All Right. He is tagged with the very plain name of Smith and he is only a grammar school boy of comparatively tender years, but he can pitch. We refer to the Smithy who made baseball history in Lowell on Tuesday while pitching for the Edison school team against the Greenhills nine. He fanned an even two dozen of the 27 boys who faced his shots and allowed one home run. The game itself was tinged with record breaking accomplishments, inasmuch as only two Edison players aside from the battery, touched the ball during the progress of play. Smithy, you have your life ahead of you.

Let the Old Bell Ring. As far as can be learned, a dozen or more local amateur and semi-pro nines are planning to get under way next Monday, the holiday. The American Legion, Plu's South Ends, the K. of C. and Lamson Co. are a few of the clubs mentioned as sure starters. On the other hand, don't forget the Lowell High-Townsend game at Spaulding Park in the forenoon.

STEECHER TO MEET LEWIS. NEW YORK, April 16.—Joe Stecher, world's champion heavyweight catch-as-catch-can wrestler, will defend his title here tonight, in a bout to a finish with Ed ("Strangler") Lewis. One fall will decide the winner.

PRELIMINARY FENCING BOOTS. NEW YORK, April 16.—Preliminary bouts to decide the annual intercollegiate team and individual fencing championships were contested here today by representatives of six eastern colleges—Harvard, Yale, Columbia, University of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts Institute of Tech and the United States naval academy. The finals will be held tomorrow. Some winners probably will be designated to accompany the American Olympic fencing team to Antwerp this summer.

LEGION BALL TEAM. Manager Walsh of the Lowell Post-American Legion ball team, issued a call today for all players to report at the Community Service club tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

When George Stallings blinded the eyes of all the baseball fans in the country by catapulting his Bravo machine through the old league and then to a stunning world championship. We say "shades" because this year Boston has another mysterious entry in the N. L. Hall and one which crushed the Giants with a great deal of sag from the opening clash at the Polo grounds. As the managers and owners say, "Of course, it is too early to make predictions, but—" Well, that "but" goes for the Braves of 1920.

Continued

"You Catholic boys had paid your great debt to the United States. You had saved civilization."

The speaker then paid a sterling tribute to the part played by women in the war, the patience and suffering of mothers waiting and watching for their sons. Joan of Arc, he said, was the greatest patriot in history. He also spoke in high terms of the work done by the Knights of Columbus in the conflict.

Thomas M. Higgins

Thomas M. Higgins spoke for the service men. During his remarks all the service men present arose and were roundly applauded. He said that the spirit of sacrifice demonstrated in the war had been implanted and nurtured under the watchful care of the spiritual directors of the young men who fought the war. He said that the church alone will solve the present problems of the world and in conclusion, he urged his comrades to do all in their power toward proper reconstruction.

In the course of the evening there were solos by Joseph M. Kelly, accompanied by Paul J. Angelo; Miss Florence McManus, Patrick Maguire, Miss Beala Gendreau and Commissioner J. E. Donnelly. The program closed shortly after midnight with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

SUPERIOR COURT

The case of Francis Coope vs. George P. Scannell, which went to trial in the superior civil court here yesterday afternoon, was still on today. He is represented by James P. Owens and B. J. Moloney, while Kerwin & Kelly appear for Mr. Scannell.

This is the last case on the trial list until next Tuesday, April 20, jurors not sitting having been excused until that time.

More than 8000 people visited the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., on Saturday afternoons last summer.

NEW SECRETARY-MANAGER FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL ARRIVE MONDAY

William N. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, received telegraphic assurance today from Geo. F. Wells of Janesville, Wis., that he will report here for duty as secretary-manager of the local chamber on Monday. As that day is a holiday, his real work will not begin until the day following.

Mr. Wells will take over all of the routine work now being looked after by President Goodell and will have John J. O'Rourke, formerly secretary of the old board of trade, as his assistant. In fact, the business administration of the chamber will be in his hands, although the president and board of directors will exercise supervisory powers.

RAILROAD STRIKE HITS UNDERTAKERS

Local undertakers, it is understood, are being hard hit by the railroad strike in New York for most of the local firms are dealing either with New York or Philadelphia concerns and inasmuch as there is a railroad tie-up in that part of the country they are not receiving shipments.

A local undertaker stated this morning that owing to the freight embargo no merchandise for undertakers has been shipped by freight for the past six months, all the goods being sent by express, which meant an increase of over 100 per cent in the cost of transportation, but now matters are still worse for goods are not even being shipped by express. Some of the undertakers keep pretty well supplied with stock, but others do not, and the latter, of course, are being affected by the strike. "Our business," said an undertaker, "is not like others, for we have to have the goods when we need them and we cannot wait. If this strike keeps on a few days more I will be forced to go to New York over the road and bring in what is most urgently needed."

Parts of the street are now without shade trees and unless something is done to relieve conditions the thoroughfare eventually would be denuded of shade.

The alterations and changes in the building at Central and Middle streets formerly occupied by the Thomas P. Duffy company, will represent an expenditure of approximately $10,000, according to representative of the Winchester Arms company, who will occupy the building for retail trade. This company representatives are now in the city and will remain to supervise the details of the work.

FRESHET FEVER IS GOING DOWN

The Merrimack river water at the Pawtucket dam had receded about 5 inches this morning from yesterday's high freshet mark, although a huge volume of water is still pouring over the falls more than 6 feet above the stone crest.

It is the opinion of Arthur T. Sanford, chief engineer of the Locks and Canals that the peak of the spring freshet has been reached and that it is doubtful if the river will again rise this year even to approach its present height. However, heavy and continuous rains in New Hampshire later this month might cause another rapid swelling, but one which would recede almost as quickly as it rose.

*in the greatest business
in the world*

YOU are going to do an act this month whose influence will carry around the world.

It will seem a simple thing to you—merely making a gift in the Interchurch World Campaign.

But in Church hospitals all over the country sick people will be made happier, for part of your gift will go to them.

In scores of children's homes supported by the Church more children will have a chance.

In China where there is one doctor to every 400,000 people (America has one to every 712) the Church's medical forces will be strengthened and encouraged.

Babies who might have died

In India where a third of the babies die before their second year, the lives of babies will be saved.

Church schools and colleges will share your gift [half of America's 450,000 students in institutions of higher grade are in Church Institutions].

These are some of the things your money will do. And this is

What your money will not do

It will not put two Churches where only one should be. The Movement means thirty denominations pledged to prevent duplication and waste.

It will not be spent in useless overhead. At least a million dollars will be saved by the merging of thirty campaigns into one united effort.

Your life will be at work in every land

Whether you are a Church member, or whether you merely contribute, you will put your life to work—through the Church—in every corner of the World. And long after your life is over its influence will survive and serve.

These are the terms in which to think of the Church.

We have thought too long about it in terms of little things. Let us get a picture this month of its world-wide sweep. Let us stop thinking of ourselves as givers of pennies.

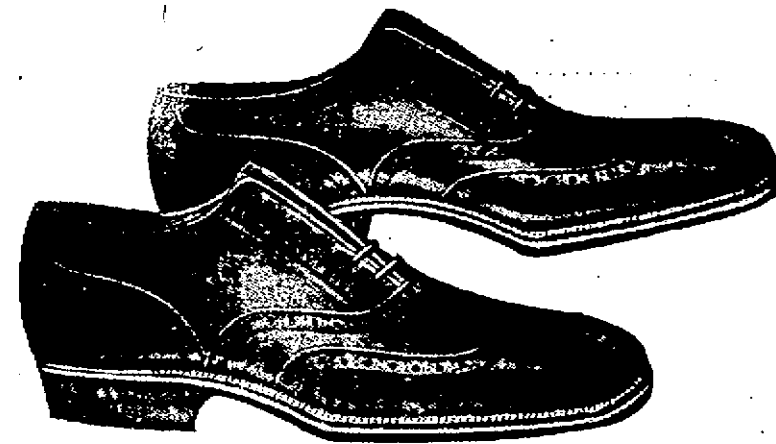

We are fellow-workers with Almighty God—stockholders in the greatest business in the world.

AND EXHIBITION

What will be the first meeting of its kind is that to be held in the Varnum school tomorrow evening under the auspices of the International Institute. It will be a community meeting and exhibition, in other words a Polish mass meeting, designed not only to display the handwork of the Polish people who have been attending school in that section, but also to give Americanization work a gentle boost.

The Polish community in Lowellville, which has been actively engaged in many projects in the line of school work and vocational training for some time past under the direction of workers of the Institute, is one of the most progressive community sections in Lowell.

Miss Hutton of the International Institute and Miss Smith have given considerable of their time and initiative in arranging the meeting and it is expected that the initial presentation will be productive of great results.

The program will be as follows: Chorus, Selected, Normal School Students and Community Club Girls.

Words of Welcome, Rev. Joseph Soltykiewicz, Polish Folk Song.

Address, Miss Caroline Urbanek, Address, Mr. Hugh J. Molloy, Supt. of Schools.

Violin solo, Mr. Edward Daly, Irish Lullaby, Elizabeth Jennings, Esther Sharp.

Solo, Mrs. Joseph Green, Address, Mr. Jacob Tark.

Chorus, selected, American and Polish Patriotic Songs, Audience.

The audience is invited to visit the exhibition of dresses and hats made by the pupils during attendance at the vocational classes at the Varnum school. There is also an exhibition of handwork kindly loaned by the Polish ladies of the community.

CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB
Changes to make room for added recreational features are contemplated by the Centralville Social club in West Sixth street. The upper portion of the building is used for meetings and the basement for games and amusement. The club has a couple of pool tables, card tables and other games and, according to present plans, the basement equipment will be moved to the upper part of the building and a couple of bowling alleys will be installed in the basement. It is very probable also

Eczema Caused
Agony

"I have suffered intense agony from eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT, and there is no sign of eczema or itching. You can refer to me."—Geo. C. Talbot, 27 Penfield Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I've got a hundred testimonials," says Peterson of Buffalo, "just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago, when I first started to put out PETERSON'S OINTMENT, I made up my mind to give a big box for 35 cents, and I am still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows."

"I guarantee PETERSON'S OINTMENT because I know that its mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to everyone who buys a box of eczema, salt rheum, old sores, blind, bleeding and itching piles, ulcers, skin diseases, chapping, burns, scalds, and sunburn, and if not satisfactory, my druggist will return your money."

that the furniture of the club will be renewed. At a recent meeting of the club it was voted to conduct a social and dance for the benefit of the improvements some time this month, and the following committee was appointed to look after arrangements: Venances Pavreau, chairman; Andre Bouthillier, secretary; Jean Bouthillier, treasurer; Leo Major, Adelard Gagnon, Albert Ducharme and George Lemire.

WARNING TO TAXI AND TRUCK OPERATORS
Declaring that many Lowell taxi-cab and commercial truck operators have as yet failed to comply with the recently enacted law requiring these vehicles to be equipped with mirrors so constructed that the driver is enabled to obtain free and unobstructed view of the highway immediately in the rear, Supt. Welch of the local police department stated today that unless local drivers comply with this regulation immediately drastic action will be taken.

Failure to have mirrors attached to these machines has resulted in several accidents here in the past month, he pointed out, and in order that motor vehicle accidents will be reduced to a minimum in Lowell it is essential that this as well as other auto laws should be strictly observed. This is positively the last warning that taxi-cab and truck operators will receive, he declared.

GOES BACK FROM WHENCE IT CAME

Almost $5000 worth of whiskey disappeared from the police station cellar last night.

"This refers to the three barrels of whiskey seized early in the week by the local police."

We know who took it, too. It was John B. O'Dea, Lowell's recently appointed prohibition enforcement agent.

Mr. O'Dea, of course, had a right to take it, as his superior officers had ordered him to remove it from the local bottle to Boston, where it will remain in the custody of the federal agent.

England Convinces
Many love notes convince English that "vamps" really exist. Until the other day all England believed not. It believed the "vamp" was a creation of the American movie factories. But since the case of Mrs. Thelma Dorothy Danvers has been heard, English sensation lovers have changed their minds.

This now famous divorce case has all the ingredients of the most thrilling movie play ever screened. The husband, an officer, away at the front; the wife, so beautiful that she numbers her admirers by the number of men who have a chance to meet and gaze into her beautiful eyes or hear the tones of her dulcet voice. Even one of the officers of the king's armistice felt love with her. Some "vamp" we'll say.

Seeks Vice-Presidency
A California woman just might be the next vice-president of the United States! Marie C. Grohn, Long Beach, noted club worker and white ribbon lecturer of International fame, is the one upon whom this honor may be conferred.

Women politicians, sensing the power of their sex in the coming elections, and knowing the widespread interest among women on the no-drink question, think it not at all an unlikely thing a woman may be successful, running as a candidate for the vice-presidency of the United States. A traveler in many foreign countries, Miss Grohn has represented the government, as its president, at the world's anti-alcoholic congress.

Successor to Sousa
The successor to John Philip Sousa has been discovered. He is Raymond Stuart Baird, the youngest orchestra leader in the world. Raymond is still a young man, barely twenty years old, but for two weeks he directed a 40-piece orchestra in Los Angeles, impersonating the famous Sousa. He also has directed orchestras at Long Beach, Cal., and at Pasadena and in Salt Lake City.

"Freedom of Film"
Backed by an organization said to number more than 5000 theatre owners from every state and city in the United States, moving picture exhibitors have launched a fight to escape what they term the grasp of Wall street and British capital reaching out in an endeavor to gain not only absolute financial control of the moving picture industry but also to feed propaganda unhampered to the American people. Read about this big "Freedom of Film" fight in The Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

TRACTORS COME IN ALL SIZES

This—1920—will be the biggest tractor-building year in history.

Last year beat all previous records. But tractor manufacturers announce a much larger building program, and there are more tractor plants now than in 1919.

By use of the tractor it is hoped to overcome the farm shortage of human and animal labor. The tractor will do anything the horse did, and it will require less human labor than horse-drawn farm machinery.

When the tractor was first put on the market it was argued that only the farmer with a large acreage would find it profitable. Now there are thousands of 50-acre farmers, and truck gardeners using the tractor. They use it not only to plow the land, but to haul wagons, disks, harrows, drags, cultivators, harvesters, and to furnish motive power for wood sawing and butter churning.

Once the tractor was a big, clumsy affair. There still are giant tractors, as per picture above. Here a large caterpillar tractor is breaking up new prairie land, hauling eight 35-inch disc plows in preparing the ground for planting. Two men handle eight plows. Under the old order of things it would have required at least 16 horses and eight men to do this work.

Also there is the baby tractor, as per picture inset above. It, too, has caterpillar wheels, and is a small affair compared to its bigger brother. This tiny tractor is intended for use on small farms and truck gardens.

In the past five years 545,000 farm tractors have been manufactured in the United States. Of these 137,000 were sold abroad, and 408,000 reserved for service in this country. Meanwhile, the value of horses has declined from $2,111,557,000 (in 1918) to $1,052,542,000 (in 1919).

CALL FIREMEN MAY JOIN
PERMANENT FORCE

Commissioner John P. Salmon of the fire department has tendered a formal offer to the 11 call firemen, whose positions are to be abolished as a result of a vote of the municipal council last Tuesday, to join the permanent force of the department. The following letter has been sent to each of the callmen:

Dear Sir: You are herewith notified that the municipal council on the 13th day of April passed a vote, a copy of which follows:

"Voted—That the unit of the fire department, heretofore designated as the call force of said department, is unnecessary and in the interests of economy and sound administration of the fire department said call force should be abolished."

You are further notified that, if you desire, and you pass the requisite physical examination, I shall appoint

you a member of the permanent force of the fire department of the city of Lowell.

Kindly advise me at once if you desire to be a member of the permanent force of the fire department.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN P. SALMON,
Commissioner of Fire Department.

As yet none of the firemen has indicated any desire of becoming a member of the permanent force. Ten days after the passage of the vote abolishing the call force, each of the callmen will be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner if he wishes it.

ALLIED WARNING TO GERMANY

Great Britain, France and Belgium Join in Note—Threaten to Shut Off Food

Will Demand Germany Execute Disarmament and Demobilization Clauses

PARIS, April 10.—The representatives in Berlin of Great Britain, France and Belgium will join in a warning to Germany that she must execute without delay the disarmament and demobilization clauses of the peace treaty, according to present plans.

It is understood that the charge d'affaires will also say to the German government that in case the insurrectionary movements in Germany are not suppressed the allies may refuse further deliveries of foodstuffs. Agreement among the allies for the execution of the Versailles treaty was reported in despatches from Paris on Thursday. The disarmament clauses of the treaty were particularly mentioned in this connection and a proposal to cut off food supplies from Germany was forecast in the event of a refusal on her part to meet the provisions of these clauses.

Switzerland now relies on the United States for its coal supply.

NO PREPARATION FOR COMING PRIMARIES

The creation of the new bi-partisan election commission for this city is still causing more or less uncertainty at city hall relative to the administration of various details concerning the presidential primaries to be held here on April 27.

Although the date of the primaries is only a little more than a week away, there has not yet been any calling together of the voters and the hours during which the polls are to remain open have not yet been designated. In past years the municipal council usually passed a formal order calling a meeting of the voters and designating the hours of voting, but as yet the council has taken no action in this direction in preparation for the coming primaries.

There has been some doubt as to whether the new election commission should name the voters or whether that function will rest with the municipal council. City Clerk Stephen Flynn has been waiting for the matter to be straightened out but up to noon today had received no definite assurance whether he should present the matter to the council for action or whether it should be left in the hands of the election commission. However, pending the arrival of definite information on the matter, Mr. Flynn planned to have a special meeting of the council called tomorrow morning and have the usual order passed.

In past years presidential primaries have been held from 12 noon to 8 p. m. One year the polls closed at 3 p. m. It is probable that the same general hours will prevail this year although there has been more or less agitation to have the polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. in order that returns may be received early.

It has been pointed out that few

other cities in the state have such late voting hours as Lowell and the cause is traced by some to the efforts of election officers to keep the polls closed until noon so that they may put in half a day's work at their regular employment and then get the usual remuneration for working at the polls in the afternoon and early evening. On the other hand, if they are called upon to begin their duties at 8 a. m. and continue until 4 p. m. an entire day is "spoiled" and they earn only what they get from the city.

OH BOY! WHAT A NICE VACATION!

If you are a member of the United States naval force on inactive duty, and haven't decided just where you'll spend your summer vacation, just give this announcement the once over:

You, and all other reservists on inactive duty throughout the city, are eligible to participate in the annual midshipmen's cruise to be conducted by the naval department this summer—which includes a visit to Hawaii, Panama, and other ports.

The cruise will start May 10 from Philadelphia, Pa., and the Second Battleship Squadron, which will carry the vacationists, will return to American waters September 1. Transportation expenses to Philadelphia will be paid by Uncle Sam—who also guarantees to see that all expenses on the trip are settled for. Uncle also provides your car fare home when you return.

Lowell men who wish to make the trip should get in touch with Chief Caray of the local naval recruiting station at Northlake Square immediately, who will furnish all necessary information.

has arrived at the auditorium site and is being mixed for settings. Final traces of the wooden tabernacle disappeared today when the further end of the building was torn down and some 30 or 35 workmen are employed getting the ground in condition for the foundations of the structure. At the junction of Brown and East Merrimack streets considerable new land has been formed by dumpings of earth from the high school site. There still remain a large number of cellar walls to be removed before actual construction is started.

At the high school site another scene of activity is available. Fully half of the land included in the site has been excavated and as the passerby views it from Kirk street it gives somewhat the idea of a huge bowl carved out of the area. Excavations have reached the present high school building and the concrete sidewalk in Kirk street. A huge derrick has been erected and this morning a steam shovel was alternately removing large boulders and loads of dirt.

One of the salient points brought out by many of the speakers was that more attention must be paid in Lowell's schools to the fundamentals of education. The three "R's" are not receiving the attention they should, it was asserted.

The junior high school plan was also discussed at length and while most of the masters favored the idea, it was brought out that it would involve considerable expense to have the buildings adapted for the purpose. The present school committee has taken no action on the junior high school matter, although the 1919 committee voted to have it become operative next September.

Chairman Delaney informed the masters that if at any time they had any complaints to make they should be made to the superintendent of schools who will bring the matter to the attention of the committee and that body will take action on whatever suggestions or complaints brought before it.

It is planned to have such conferences between the committee and the masters at regular intervals from now on so that the school board members may get an accurate idea of just what the condition of the city's educational system is from the mouths of the men who are connected with it day in and day out.

Chairman Delaney said today that the teachers of the city would also be asked to confer with the committee within a few weeks so that whatever complaints or suggestions for improvement they have may be made public and acted upon by the school board. In this way it is hoped to attain greater co-operation between the people who are actually running the schools and the administrative officers.

MONDAY EVENING CLUB

What was formerly known as the Lowell chamber of welfare is now the Monday Evening club. At a recent meeting of the organization the following officers were elected:

Dr. Chas. Simpson of the state board of health, chairman; Mrs. Kate Kohlman of the Lowell Guild, vice chairman; Miss Alice E. Sullivan, chairman of the (civilian relief of the Red Cross, secretary and treasurer; directors, Miss Emily Skilton, Miss Genevieve Lawrence, president of the teachers' organization; Miss Macklin, Reath of the Girls' community service; Miss May Lowry, representative of the League of Catholic Women; Miss Mary Breed, of Lowell Social Service league and Miss Elizabeth Sheridan, president of the Industrial Nurses' association.

YE OLDER TIMES

Senior Day was observed by the class of 1924 at the high school this afternoon at the close of the usual session. As was the case last year, the boys strolled about the hall, wearing Brown collars, while the girls let their hair hang loose, braided, adorned with large colored ribbons. The idea was to bring back the freshman days as much as possible, in spite of the dignity of being seniors. Dancing was enjoyed for an hour, with the social committee of the class in charge of what few arrangements were necessary.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE
An enjoyable meeting of the members of St. Joseph's college alumni was held last evening in the college hall in Merrimack street. President Tancredi L. Blanchette occupied the chair and in the early part of the evening considerable important business concerning the organization was transacted. At the close of the business session a social hour was held during which refreshments were served and an entertainment program was given, a feature of the affair being a wrestling exhibition between "Joe" Blanton and Edgar Gagne. There were also enjoyable piano selections by J. B. Blodin and Les Sylvestre.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS DEBATE

Two teams, the boys on the affirmative and the girls on the negative side, clashed at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the high school hall in a debate on the resolve that "Capital punishment should be abolished in Massachusetts." The debaters were Alvin Maher, Grace Burke and Helen Quinn, Maher, Alvin, Bourgeois, Homer, Bourgeois and Raymond Crowley—all members of the Greenhatch Debating society. Those who acted as judges were Lawyer P. J. Reynolds, Dr. Hagley and Lawyer Max Goldman, all old time debaters of the high school.

During the intermission when the judges were conferring, an interesting floor debate on woman suffrage was staged.

Considerable interest is aroused this year in debating and meetings are held every week instead of every two weeks as before. The officers of the club endeavored to make arrangements with the debating team of Cambridge high and Latin school but were unsuccessful, so plans are now in the air to stage a debate with the alumni.

ROOM FOR PLAYGROUND
City Solicitor William D. Regan was in Cambridge today conferring with the Middlesex county commissioners relative to the location of the new First street highway so that room might be left for a playground along the Merrimack riverbank. Mr. Regan had previously gone over the plans with the locks and canals with relation to various legal aspects of the project.

$40,000 Worth of Liquor Seized
WORCESTER, April 10.—Twenty barrels of liquor, valued at $40,000, believed by the police to be part of the stock stolen from the storehouse of M. H. Glenn in Brighton, Sunday, were seized early this morning by federal officers in a raid on the home of Jeremiah J. Sullivan, a former Worcester liquor dealer, here. The liquor was found in Sullivan's cellar and it was loaded onto trucks and started over the road to Boston. Sullivan and a former bartender employed by him, Charles Connors, were taken by the officers in Boston in automobiles.

RENEW EFFORTS TO SETTLE STRIKE

"Big Four" Chiefs Hope to Reach Agreement Before
Ultimatum Expires

R. R. Officials Threaten to Fill the Deserted Posts
After Tomorrow Noon

NEW YORK, April 16.—Leaders of the "big four" railroad brotherhoods today renewed attempts to settle the strike of rebellious railroad workers before the ultimatum of the roads managers to the "outlaws" threatening to fill the deserted posts with volunteers and cut off consideration of strikers' demands expires at noon tomorrow. Union leaders went into a conference with strikers' representatives and

Mayor Frank Hague in Jersey City, and at the same time a mass meeting of strikers opened in Hoboken.

First indications were the railroads' announcement had made no appreciable impression of the strikers. A few men returned to work, but service on one road was still further crippled by sporadic walkouts.

There was a general improvement in passenger service due to use of volunteer train crews, and receipt of two substantial shipments of foodstuffs was announced, but on at least three important roads no freight was moving and no other service was seriously hampered.

Embargo Removed

It was said at the New York Central offices that freight service was so much improved that the embargo has been lifted east of Buffalo and north of Yonkers on the New York Central and north of Newburgh on the West Shore railroad.

EXAM FOR CHAUFFEURS

Thirty applicants for chauffeurs' licenses were examined at city hall today by inspectors Hardy and Hubbell of the state highway commission.

During the first 16 days in January, 1920, more than 14 million dollars' worth of domestic spirituous liquors were exported from the United States.

GIRL STRIKE BREAKERS RUN N. Y. ELEVATORS

NEW YORK, April 16.—Girl strike breakers running elevators today enabled lawyers, financiers and other tenants of skyscrapers that make canyons in the Wall street district to get to their offices without walking up more flights of stairs than there are anywhere else in the world.

Tenants of the 51th floor of the Woolworth building, the 40th floor of the Equitable building and the 50th floor of many other office and business structures were rejoiced to find that the strike of elevator men, called today, was not so serious as to shut off service entirely.

At the Woolworth and Singer buildings, it was announced that nearly all the elevators were being operated by women. Edward A. Cochran, superintendent at the Woolworth, said that the girls were now permanent employees, and would receive the advance wage of $23 a week for which the men went on strike.

THE HERO DOG AND MASCOT OF THE Y. D.

If you were a member of the Yankee Division—or at least, if you were enrolled in the ranks of the 102d Infantry—then you know all about "Stubby," the hero dog and mascot of the Y. D.

To those who weren't among the lads of the 102d over there we'll explain that "Stubby," a four-year-old Boston bull, was the only American dog to go across with the khaki-clad forces and return in safety.

"Stubby" and his master, J. Robert Conroy, of New Haven, Conn., a member of the 102d, returned to Yankee-land several months ago. Today Mr. Conroy dropped into the office of the local Humane society to tell Agent Richardson, who thinks a lot of dogs, that "Stubby" is in tip top shape and sends his best regards to all the Lowell boys of the Yankee Division with whom he became acquainted in France.

He also showed the agent some of the medals which "Stubby" won while a member of the fighting 102d. "There's a lot of them, too," Most of them state that they were awarded for conspicuous bravery. Others because he was such a "regular" dog.

Then there is a handsome silver medal which was awarded to "Stubby" at the dog show held in Boston a few weeks ago, which proclaims him the "hero dog" of the Yankee Division.

For "Stubby," let it be said, did not lag behind when orders came to go up and at 'em—not so you could notice it. He went over, too, and once he came back with an ugly wound in his side, the work of German shrapnel. This happened at the battle of Bellefleur.

We could tell you lots more about the adventures of "Stubby" overseas but space doesn't permit. He saw service on practically every front in France during the nearly two years he spent chasing the Hun, and is now a life member of the Y.M.C.A. and several other organizations.

Yes, he sure is some dog, is "Stubby"—and if you doubt it just ask some of the boys of the 102d.

WOMAN HELD FOR OPERATING STILL

BOSTON, April 16.—When Mrs. Annie Gazowsky, of Haverhill, was charged today with operating an illicit whiskey still in her kitchen, counsel offered as defense the statement that she was brewing the liquor to "make something" for her sick husband. Internal revenue agents testified that they found the still working, and produced samples of the liquor which it produced. The federal commissioner before whom the case was heard held the woman for the grand jury.

4000 Vote to Strike at Toledo

TOLEDO, O., April 16.—By a large majority four thousand insurgent railroad switchmen of Toledo voted this afternoon to return to work immediately.

Steal $10,000 Next Door to Police Station

NEW YORK, April 16.—Two robbers today entered the wholesale meat establishment of Baer Brothers, next door to the West 37th street police station and after beating the cashier escaped with his payroll amounting to $10,000.

High Prices in Cotton Market

NEW YORK, April 16.—An excited advance in the cotton market today brought new high prices on all active positions. Early deliveries led the upward movement, with October selling at 36.92c a pound, or 103 points higher than the close yesterday. Reports of continued bad weather in the cotton belt preceded the rise.

Brotherhood Chiefs Reply to Ultimatum

CLEVELAND, April 16.—At the close of a three hour conference between A. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; Warren S. Stone, chief of the engineers' brotherhood, and W. S. Carter, president of the firemen's brotherhood, a reply was sent to the railroad general managers' association ultimatum last night to get the striking railroaders back to work by Saturday noon. The chiefs would not divulge the nature of the reply.

Official Recognition for "Overall Club"

SUCCESSFUL FOOD SALE
The St. Michael's parish branch of the League of Catholic Women held a very successful food sale in Gagnon's store in Merrimack street today in aid of the bazaar to be given in Symphony hall later in the month to raise funds for a diocesan centre for Catholic women. An able committee from St. Michael's parish was in charge of the sale and a large sum was realized.

STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK, April 16.—It became evident before noon that the course of the market, like that of the preceding session, would be governed largely by money conditions. Call loans opened at 10 per cent, the highest initial rate in almost six weeks. The supply was said to be small, pointing to higher rates later. With the first signs of renewed stringency, stocks began to react, standard shares as well as specialties forfeiting the greater part of their 2 to 6-point gains. Speculative sentiment was also affected by further weakness of Liberty bonds, the 3 1/2's making a sheer decline of 1 per cent.

GETS 21-YEAR SENTENCE
Leavens Jailed for Assault on Sheriff and Escape From Custody of Officer
PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 16.—Daniel Leavens was today sentenced to 21 years in state prison on two counts, 20 years for assault on Deputy Sheriff G. Ralph Tillinghast and one year additional for escaping from the custody of an officer. On March 21, 1916, while being taken to prison in a big van Leavens, with 15 others, made their escape to the woods. Tillinghast was shot, it was claimed, by the prisoner who has succeeded in taking a revolver from one of the guards. Leavens was the last of the men to be recaptured being taken at New London, last November.
